NO. 105—SEVENTY-FOURTH YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, APRIL 12, 1932 | TWENTY PAGES

OVERWHELMS OPPONENTS IN FINAL VOTING

Von Hindenburg Returned to Presidency of German Republic

HITLER FALLS SHORT OF HIS CALCULATIONS

BERLIN, April 10 (AP).—A grateful German nation, casting well above 19,000,000 votes for him, today decided that the Venerable President Paul Von Hindenburg should guide the ship of state for another seven years.

Adolf Hitler, his Fascist opponent of the Nationalist Socialist party in the run-off presidential election, although he gained a goodly portion of the Nationalist votes from the first election on March 13, fell short of reaching the 15,000,000 ballots he had claimed in the campaign. He obtained less than 13,500,000.

COMMUNIST SWAMPED

Ernst Thaelmann, Communist, and the other candidate this time lost overwhelmingly. He received only 3,706,388 votes, as compared to his nearly 5,000,000 four weeks ago.

The preliminary official final vote, as announced by the Election Commissioner early today, was:

Von Hindenburg	19,359,642
Hitler	13,417,460
Thaelmann (Comm.)	3,706,388
Invalid	8,204
Total	36,491,694

SOCIALIST KILLED

A Nationalist Socialist was shot and killed in a clash between the Fascist Nazis and Communists at Hamburg, and several were wounded there, with a few others injured elsewhere in minor clashes, but alert police kept down the disturbances.

SOVIET TO GET RELIEF GRAIN

Tons Intended for Famine Sufferers May Be Sold by China

VANCOUVER, April 11.—United States Farm Board wheat and flour, sold to China at a low price on long terms for famine relief, may be diverted to Soviet Russia, grain men of Vancouver believe, following receipt of word from Shanghai that China has sold 10,000 tons of wheat and 10,000 tons of flour to the Soviet.

The relief grain was sold last year to China on generous terms for relief of famine in the flooded districts, and the last parcels left Seattle and Tacoma in chartered ships only recently.

EXPECT FURTHER SALES

Official notification of the sale of grain to Russia has been received from L. M. Cosgrave, Canadian trade commissioner at Shanghai. The report was forwarded from Ottawa. It adds that further sales are expected.

Whether Russia's purchase is due to the shortage of the Siberian crop, which has been rumored for some time, or to political reasons is not clear. There is a suggestion in grain circles here that it might be for Soviet troops.

The wheat and flour was sold to Russia, it is reported, by an association of the leading millers of China. It was the same association which bought grain from the United States Farm Board.

VLADIVOSTOK DELIVERY

The grain for Russia is to be delivered at Vladivostok shortly, according to Trade Commissioner Cosgrave.

Inasmuch as China and Japan have been buying less Canadian wheat than usual this season, it is not considered possible here that Dominion-grown wheat is being resold to the Soviet.

SAYS IT'S RIDICULOUS

SEATTLE, April 11.—W. L. Comyn, head of the Seattle shipping firm handling the shipment of Farm Board wheat and flour to China for famine relief, said here today he had received an official report that China is selling wheat and flour to Russia, but he branded as "ridiculous" the rumor that famine relief shipments were being resold by the Chinese to the Soviet Republic.

"We have definite knowledge that all shipments of wheat and flour are now in consumption in the famine districts," he said.

CANADIAN RADIO RECEPTION POOR

OTTAWA, April 11.—Reception of Canadian radio broadcasts in the Arctic is "indifferent," the annual report of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police discloses. Comments from the Far Northern outposts agree that Canadian stations are not heard regularly, and certainly not with the regularity of radio broadcasts originating at United States points.

The constables on duty within the Arctic Circle have, however, the great advantage of good reception for stations in England, and also in France and Germany, the report indicates.

Where Newfoundland Riots Occurred

THE trouble which has been brewing in Newfoundland for the past two months culminated last week when thousands of dissatisfied citizens raided the Colonial Parliament Buildings at St. John's and forced the Prime Minister, Sir Richard Squires, to flee for his life. The strained situation is reported to have been caused by the Government's unsatisfactory unemployment scheme and the alleged falsification of the minutes in the House of Commons. The main picture (bottom) shows the Parliament Buildings, where the riot took place, while at the top, left and right, are the Postoffice and the Court House, which are under guard following the uprising. Inset is a recent photograph of Sir Richard Squires, who may resign as a result of the trouble.

Vancouver Trade Board Head Admits Criticism Was Founded on Hearsay

Harold Brown Confesses to Legislative Committee That He Did Not Attend Sittings Which He Described Luridly in Address in Vancouver —Says Nothing Personal Meant

APPEARING at the request of the Legislative Committee on Unemployment yesterday, Harold Brown, President of the Vancouver Board of Trade, admitted freely that he had not attended one of the meetings of the committee which he had publicly criticized before a Vancouver audience last week. He declared he had been misreported in any utterance that sought to impugn the personal character of members of the committee, and had passed no such strictures in his remarks in Vancouver. To this extent he would apologize.

Making clear his attitude on the whole affair, Mr. Brown said that he was without politics, and deplored what he considered a political inquiry at a time of grave crisis, when the confidence of the public was at stake. He had followed the course of the inquiry closely, and had obtained, from some source he declined to disclose, a transcript of the evidence. On this he had based his criticism of the general character of the inquiry, which was without the slightest personal feeling, he assured the committee.

NO REFLECTION INTENDED

Going further, Mr. Brown said he did not believe in the party system of government, and was in sympathy with a movement to have an independent commission established to advise the Government in such times as these. He had given his personal views throughout, and had not spoken as the head of the Vancouver Board of Trade, he affirmed. He proposed to stick entirely to his statements, saving where any remarks of his had been

GOVERNMENT IS UPHELD IN VOTE

Three Divisions on Important Changes in Policy Support Ministry

Three divisions were called in the Legislature yesterday afternoon, as a welcome surcease from extended argument on second reading of bills with a revenue outlook. In the bill to hand on to municipalities a reasonable part of institutional costs, the Government was supported 28-11. A companion measure assessing a part of the cost of mothers' pensions on civic communities, passed second reading by 28-12.

Division on second reading of the redistribution measure, by way of amendment to the Constitution Act, was polled at 27-12, after considerable debate, which is elsewhere recorded. Reduction in legislative members indemnities from $2,000 to $1,800, and reduction of the total membership of the House from forty-eight to forty-seven are the chief effects of the bill.

Second reading of the bill dealing with the liability of municipalities for a share of institutional costs was carried on straight party lines. J. A. Loutet (Cons., North Vancouver), voted with the Opposition against the change in the Mothers' Pensions Act, on an otherwise straight party poll.

Dr. L. E. Borden (Cons., Nelson), and Reginald Hayward (Cons., Victoria), voted with the Opposition on the redistribution measure; Dr. Borden on the ground that he could not agree with changes in the Nelson-Creston area, and Mr. Hayward on the general ground that not sufficient reduction was made in the total membership of the House.

Killed When Ice Floes Collapsed

MATNA, Que., April 11.—When ice floes piled along the shore of the St. Lawrence suddenly gave way here yesterday, Rita Deschesnes, twelve, was killed and her brother, Jean Vyes, seven, was severely injured. The children had climbed down near the water, and when some of the ice, piled high behind them, unexpectedly rolled down upon upon them, the little girl suffered a fractured skull and her brother sustained a broken leg.

IS APPOINTED JUDGE

LONDON, April 11 (CP). — The London Gazette today announced Geoffrey Lawrence, attorney-general to the Prince of Wales, has been appointed a judge of the High Court, King's Bench

New Commission Will Reconsider Police Budget

THE first duty of the new Police Commission, comprising the Mayor, Magistrate George Jay and a judge of the County Court, will be to reconsider the 1932 budget of police expenditures and receipts. On a motion by Alderman P. R. Brown, the council last night decided to send the estimates back for revision.

EXCHANGE HEAD DENIES CHARGES

Richard Whitney Tells Committee Public to Blame for Fluctuation in Prices

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Blame for violent fluctuations in security prices was attributed to the public today by Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, who scoffed at claims that bear raids contributed to the recent market decline.

Testifying at the outset of the United States banking committee's investigation of the exchange, Whitney said the public placed unwarranted values on stocks in the inflationary period prior to 1929 and was now "trying to give the United States away" by excessive liquidations.

SAYS STORIES RIDICULOUS

Whitney characterized the stories of bear raids as "purely ridiculous" and said they were not permitted under the exchange's present rules.

While Whitney testified, the stock market resumed the decline which last week precipitated the committee's sudden investigation. He blamed last week's fall in prices to a liquidation as a result of world events, and denied it was caused by short selling.

Volcanoes in Chile Cause Great Alarm

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 11 (AP).—Three active volcanoes kept a large part of Chile on its toes today.

Throughout the vast area between Linares, in the Province of Maule and San Felipe, the the Province of Aconcagua, the attention of the people was fastened on the volcanoes of Tinguiririca in Colchagua Province and Quisapu, in Talca Province, while Cordillera, a third volcano on the Argentina side of the border, also was in eruption.

Violent explosions, followed by glaring flashes of fire, kept the inhabitants in a state of alarm which in some places, such as Talca, Rancagua and Quiliota, bordered on panic. The people of Curico and Talca were particularly worried because just such a set of circumstances preceded the terrible earthquake of Talca on December 1, 1928.

ANGLO-IRISH DEADLOCK IS THREATENING

Publication of Notes Reveals Tense Situation—Both Are Insistent

DAIL WILL DISCUSS MATTERS APRIL 20

LONDON, April 11 (CP).—Members of the Government tonight said they expected no further communication from the Irish Free State regarding its intention to abolish the oath of allegience to the Crown and to retain land annuities ordinarily paid the British Treasury, until the issues are brought up in the Dail Eireann at Dublin on April 20.

Meanwhile, official circles showed marked reticence in discussing today's publication of notes exchanged between the two Governments and refused to reveal their opinion of the merits or possible outcome of the dispute. Even members of the House of Commons from Northern Ireland, usually quite ready to comment on affairs of the Free State, said they wished to keep out of the dispute at present. The consensus of the majority, however, was the British Government, in asserting its demand that the Anglo-Irish treaty remain inviolate, had adopted the only possible attitude.

ARE DEADLOCKED

In their frank exchange of notes the two Governments have reached an impasse. President Eamonn de Valera is as firm as ever in his determination to strike the oath from the constitution. Great Britain is equally insistent the oath is an integral part of the Irish treaty, and that by the treaty the Free State is bound in the most formal and emphatic manner.

CURRENCY ROAD TO PROSPERITY

Minister of Trade Declares Stabilization of Money Solution to Depression

OTTAWA, April 11 (CP).—Stabilization of currency was painted to the House of Commons tonight as the royal road to better days. Solve that problem, said Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and many economic and commercial ills facing the world will disappear.

Leading off the budget debate for the Government, Mr. Stevens, a keen economist, analysed the four factors that contributed to world depression—price levels, debt, interest and trade—and boiled each down to the common problem of currency stabilization.

WORLD CO-OPERATION

"Out of the depression and the despair of these days," he said, "we may learn principles of fortitude and economy that will be of advantage to us in the future. But the solution of these problems will not come from the efforts of any one nation—that must be found in the co-operation of the nations of the world—and to that end I invite the study of this House of the problems with which we are confronted so that the Government may be guided, assisted and supported in its efforts to deal with these problems in conjunction with Governments in other parts of the world."

BLAME FIREBUG FOR OUTBREAKS

Five Farm Buildings in Small Section of Alberta Destroyed by Fire

IRMA, Alta., April 11.—With a pyromaniac feared to be operating in the district, five separate and distinct fires on farms within a radius of three miles, eleven miles from Irma, on Monday morning, burned down three barns and two vacant houses.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers at noon today were proceeding from Irma to the points of the blazes to commence investigations.

The first fire broke out in a barn on the farm of Jonathan Schiender, who has lived in the district for two years. Mr. Schiender found, when he went to investigate, that his cattle and horses had been turned out of the barn.

Other fires were in the Figure farm barn, the Bokraninski barn and the Pat Cooney and Wade houses. The houses were not occupied, and there were no barns on those properties.

Superannuation Is Deferred a Year

VANCOUVER, April 11.—On the casting vote of Mayor Louis D. Taylor, the City Council this afternoon decided to retain for this year the services of Fire Chief C. W. Thompson and treasurer D. H. Robinson, both of whom have reached the superannuation ages of their departments, fifty-five and sixty-five, respectively. The resolution also provided for further consideration of the subject at the end of the year.

The council's policy of compulsory retirement provides for exemption of department heads at the council's discretion from year to year.

KOOTENAY PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED; RAIL IS REMOVED

Locomotive and Mail Car Derailed on Kettle Valley Line—No One Is Injured—Spikes Taken From Ties and Steel Laid in Ditch —Traffic Halted Nine Hours

Serious Accident Averted by Slow Pace on Steep Up-Grade

NELSON, April 11.—Only the slow pace of the Kettle Valley passenger train, westbound from here, prevented a serious wreck when the locomotive and the mail car left the tracks on the Eholt Hill, four miles from Eholt, early on Sunday morning. No one was injured, but the train was delayed for nine hours by the derailment. Reports that the track had been "tampered with" were confirmed today by passengers who were on the train. One rail on the outer side of the track was removed bodily from the ties and laid in the adjoining ditch, and the spikes were removed from the rail next above but left attached to the angle irons to the one next above.

In removing the nuts from the bolts on the angleirons, oil was applied to loosen the threads. The angleirons were thrown in a nearby brook and the rest of the hardware was found on the rock bank. The implements with which the spikes were removed were not located.

WAS NEAR CURVE

This was a few yards below a rock cut on a curve, and the headlight of the locomotive would sweep to the left toward the rock cut, without revealing the defective track, this accounting for the engineer, L. L. Boomer, of Nelson, not seeing it.

As the grade is steep all the way up Eholt Hill, the train was making fifteen miles an hour or slightly better, and this slow speed was what averted a disaster, as the point is said to be from 2,500 to 3,000 feet above the North Fork Valley below, with a first drop of many hundreds of feet.

BRAKES HALT TRAIN

When the locomotive hit the defective portion of the track, it diverged toward the right or outer edge, its right wheels going off the ties on to the roadbed and its left wheels ploughing along the middle of the ties and tearing some of them out. The tender turned to the left and the mail car, which was next, to the right. The automatic brakes brought the train to a standstill with the rear trucks of the mail car and all the rest of the train still on the rails.

All the passengers, except perhaps some in the sleeper, piled out to see what was wrong, the shock of the brakes having been felt throughout the train. Eventually the portion of the train that was not derailed was run back to Grand Forks, while the auxiliary from Nelson, with division officials, removed the derailed rolling stock and repaired the track.

There were footprints leading down the steep bank from the point where the outrage was perpetrated.

The derailment occurred around 1 a.m., between Mileposts 103 and 104.

AUSTRALIAN BANDITS SEVERELY SENTENCED

MELBOURNE, April 11 (CP).—Sentences of twenty years' imprisonment and flogging were passed today on three men who last November attacked the manager of a department store and robbed him of a handbag containing about $5,000. The robbers shot and wounded a plain clothes police officer and escaped in a motor car.

TREASURY IS TO CONTROL

Hon. J. W. Jones Introduces Bill Providing Exacting Safeguards

As indicated in his budget, Hon. J. W. Jones introduced in the Legislature yesterday a bill to bring about treasury control in public expenditures by the British Columbia Government, contained in amendments to the Revenue Act, which received first reading. The support of the bill is to give power to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to make whatever regulations are necessary to insure full treasury control, presumably under a standing sub-committee of the Cabinet.

Specific clauses give power:

(a) To provide for the comparative checking of current collections and expenditures, and for regulating the increase or reduction of authorized expenditures on the basis of actual collections.

SAFEGUARDS LISTED

(b) To provide safeguards of expenditure, based on the consent of the Department of Finance as well as the department in charge of the service in question, having regard to the state of the revenue and the general financial situation existing from time to time.

(c) To prevent overcommitment in respect of any appropriation of the Legislature, or in respect of any sum borrowed or to be borrowed by the Minister of Finance, and to prevent undue expenditure, having regard to the unexpired portion of the expenditure period intended to be covered by any appropriation or borrowing.

DOUBLE CHECK MOOTED

The bill would place wide powers in the hands of the Minister of Finance, and any sub-committee of the Cabinet that was decided upon to conduct its regulations. It provides for what amounts to a clear-traffic signal from the Controller-General's office before any expenditure can be made, to show that the money is available, voted for the purpose, and rightly to be expended in regard to all contingent circumstances. All expenditures made to meet emergent needs would have to be reported to the Controller-General immediately.

Introduction of the bill is being taken as another indication that the Government intends to place the tightest possible watch on expenditures this year, on a budget that is nearly $5,000,000 less than appropriations of last year.

Eskimos Use Bears In Harness

OTTAWA, April 11 (CP).—The ravages of "Arctic distemper" among the sled dogs of the Northern aborigines have been particularly severe of late. As a result, the Eskimos have had to resort to unusual methods to replace lost "dog-power." The most unique is reported from Wager Inlet, in the Chesterfield area, where one native family traveled around with two bear cubs harnessed to their komatik.

By patient training they had taught them to get used to harness, and not to make battle with the dogs. And likewise their dogs had to be taught to get used to them.

The Eskimos would not leave the bears outside at night, but would take them into the igloo occupied by themselves, where they also ate; and natives and bears slept side by side at night.

Seize Baseball Lottery Tickets

MONTREAL, April 11.—A seizure of over 56,000 lottery tickets was made here Saturday, when police raided a printing plant. No arrests were made. The lotteries centred around the baseball season, which opens today and Tuesday. Seven large packages, each containing thousands of the tickets, were addressed to persons in St. Hyacinthe, Sherbrooke, Quebec, Sorel, Three Rivers, Saskatoon, Winnipeg, Moose Jaw and several Alberta cities.

MAYOR IS ELECTED

SAINT JOHN, N.B., April 11. — James W. Brittain was elected mayor of Saint John today. He defeated four other candidates for this office, including the former mayor, Dr. Walter White, who has served five terms. Ralph G. McInerney and Lebaron Wilson were elected as commissioners, or aldermen.

City Police Board Automatically Put Out of Commission

Royal Assent to 1932 Amendments to Municipal Act Places Important Rights at Disposal of City and District Councils

CURRENT amendments to the British Columbia Municipal Act, embodying important taxation rights for city councils, and the repeal in so far as Victoria is concerned of the present Police Board, became law yesterday, when royal assent to the measure was given by the Lieutenant-Governor. Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, attended by his aides from Government House, arrived shortly before 3 o'clock and left immediately after assenting to the bill in the name of His Majesty.

The passage of the act automatically wipes out the present elective police board at Victoria, and leaves the way open for the immediate appointment of the three-man board along lines used for some years in Ontario and Alberta. The composition of the board is expected to include Mayor David Leeming, Magistrate George Jay and one of the two judges in the Victoria County Court area. In a permissive sense, the same system is now open to all British Columbia municipalities, saving Vancouver, which operates on a private charter.

Other sections in the act as now amended are of equal import to city councils throughout the province, comprising the permissive increase from twenty to thirty-five mills in taxation for general purposes; and the increase of taxable improvements to cover 75 per cent of their assessment.

General clauses in the bill provide for commission government of any municipality that may be pressed temporarily beyond its ability to meet its obligations, though this contingency is not expected to arise.

MAYOR RE-ELECTED

CALCUTTA, April 11 (AP). — Bidhanchandra Roy was re-elected mayor of Calcutta today.

WILL STIMULATE RADIUM LOCATING

Crown Interest May Be Reduced to 10 Per Cent With $5,000 Reward

Exploration and discovery of radium in British Columbia deposits of pitchblende or otherwise would be stimulated by a material reduction, from 50 to 10 per cent, of the percentage of such discoveries taken by the Crown, through a bill introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Hon. W. A. McKenzie.

The Minister of Mines explained that the existing regulations call for the transfer of a half interest of all radium discovered to the Crown. It is proposed to reduce this to an interest of 10 per cent. The existing reward of $5,000 for the discovery of radium in British Columbia ores is repeated in the new bill.

Other terms in the measure would confer on the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council the right to bring radium-bearing ore lands under reserve, and to regulate their conservation, purchase or development. The bill received first reading.

REDISTRIBUTION UNDER DEBATE

Nonparty Business Government Held to Be No Solution of Present Ills

With two invitations from the Opposition to leave the constitution of the British Columbia Legislature as it is, with the single exception of the new seat proposed for the Peace River district, and general comment shared in by both sides against the futility of "business" government by any nonparty movement, redistribution was debated in the House yesterday. The Government was sustained on second reading of the bill, amending the Constitution Act, by 27-12, after a two-hour debate.

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, who piloted the bill, explained it had been found almost impossible to reduce the present membership of the House in the face of a population increase of nearly 100,000 people, and the scattered population of huge areas that must be given a voice in the Legislature. A total reduction of one seat, after adding the new seat in Peace River, was the best that could be accomplished, he said.

Speaking for the Opposition, T. D. Pattullo held out no olive branch to those who are pressing for a

WOMAN TENDERS LINDBERGH BILL

GREENWICH, Conn., April 11.—Police were notified tonight that a woman attempted to pass a $20 bill bearing a serial number of one of the Lindbergh ransom notes at a bakery here, but when the proprietor identified it the woman grabbed the bill and fled.

The woman proprietor, who had a list of the ransom bills posted beside the counter, said the serial number was KB-03387-529-A.

"What! That's one of the Lindbergh bills," the shopkeeper, whose name police did not reveal, said to the woman.

The woman at the counter, who had given the note in exchange for an order of pastry, grabbed the note and ran outside to a green automobile, which sped eastward.

FINDS ESKIMO GREAT SCHEMER

R.C.M.P. Constable Reports Search of Widower for Second Wife

OTTAWA, April 11 (CP).—"Atiiui, in Search of a Wife," might well be the title of the two-year-old drama which has for its central figure an Eskimo of that name and whose vain efforts to secure for himself a spouse, are recorded in the annual report of the Canadian Mounted Police. Amid the blizzard-swept wastes of the Arctic, Atiiui has traveled for years, calling upon Eskimo settlements, moved by a yearning for the companionship of some Eskimo Eve—a yearning that has so far gone unfulfilled.

Atiiui is a widower, with an eight-year-old daughter. Wherever he went, also went the child. It was a sight to evoke sympathy, and the native ladies were not unsympathetic. But they would not travel to the Eskimo equivalent to the altar with Atiiui. Something must surely be wrong. Atiiui divined it might possibly be that his daughter was too old to inspire feelings of deep maternalism within the bosoms of the fair sex. Consequently, he traded the eight-year-old off for another girl—much younger, more helpless.

But let Constable McCormack, of the Royal Mounted, continue the story:

WANDERS CONTINUOUSLY

"Atiiui has spent the last two years doing nothing but going from place to place looking for a wife. When I left him, on May 1, at Wager Point, he had eleven beautiful dogs. We met next near Repulse Bay, about June 1, and he had only four dogs left, the rest having died of distemper. He was then making all speed towards the post at Repulse in order to get his whaleboat hauled down the twenty-eight miles to the coast before the ice got too bad to enable him to cross over to Southampton Island and continue his search for a wife.

"If he failed there, he intended making a trip to Depot Island, as he had heard there was a widow there. He is about fifty-five years old, and while talking to me, with much effort, he picked two teeth out of the front of his mouth and threw them on the snow. He then called my attention to the holes in his boots, and added that most of his dogs were dead, that the whaleboat Major Moodie gave him twenty-two years ago was rotten, and soon he would have no means of traveling.

"For a native," comments the constable, "he is the biggest schemer I have ever met; and he just lives by his wits."

NO DELAY IN IDENTIFICATION

Evidence Given by Prosecution Witnesses in Hawaiian Lynching Case

HONOLULU, April 11. — Brown fingers were leveled today from the witness chair at Mrs. Granville Fortescue and three United States navy men as the prosecution began presenting evidence by which it hopes to imprison the quartette for the lynching of Joseph Kahahawai.

Two witnesses, Edward Ulii, cousin of the lynch victim, and George von Arnswaid, a policeman, quickly identified the four in connection with the abduction last January 8 of the young Hawaiian and in the subsequent futile dash of an automobile toward the sea with his sheet-shrouded body.

Ulii pointed out Albert O. Jones, one of the two accused enlisted men, as the person who handed Kahahawai a spurious warrant by which the abductors gained their end.

Ulii previously had also named the other defendants as abductors.

The futile race of the death car toward Koko Head, from where Kahahawai's body could have been thrown to the strong tides and the sharks, was described by Von Arnswaid, who told how he had stopped the machine and found the body.

MAINLAND TRADE BOARD HEAD ADMITS CRITICISM FOUNDED ON HEARSAY

interpreted as a reflection on the members of the committee.

Taxed with a news report which said he had referred to "the spectacle of shameless evasion," and his belief that "if any witnesses had sought to speak the truth before the committee he would have been crucified"; Mr. Brown explained that it was his view that men in the Government employ would not risk their employment by being frank on such an inquiry. He would not say that anyone before the committee had not told the truth, but was of the impression that other witnesses should have been called, including a Mr. Brian, a timekeeper at one of the camps, who appeared in his office and had later sought to obtain a hearing before the panel.

"IN A RADIO SENSE"

Asked what was meant by the reported statement that he "had sat in" at sittings of the committee, Mr. Brown explained he had intended to convey that he "had listened in, in a radio sense," and had followed the inquiry from private information. He agreed that he had filed a brief with the committee, and had arranged to be heard in evidence, only was denied this through pressure of his own affairs.

"I wish to give credit to the committee to the fullest possible extent, for seeking to do its duty. I think the members are carrying out their duties to the best of their ability. I was, however, referring to the political character of the committee, and I feel very deeply that such an inquiry is futile, to get at the facts," Mr. Brown continued.

Press reports had cited him as saying he had "witnessed a spectacle of distortion of the truth," H. D. Twigg, chairman, reminded Mr. Brown, asking his explanation on this point.

Mr. Brown again repeated that he had not attended personally any of the meetings of the committee, but had "listened in, in a radio sense," to what was going on. He had been furnished with a transcript of the evidence, but would decline to say how he obtained that record.

REMARKS WERE GENERAL

Asked for any particulars of distortion, untruths, or other irregularities that he could now draw to the attention of the committee, Mr. Brown said he had none to offer. He had addressed his whole remarks in a general sense. There was a fixed impression in a part of the public mind that there had been waste and extravagance in the camps, and so far as he was aware, this impression had not been satisfactorily cleared up.

"We do know," he said, "that there was extravagant waste in the camps."

Mr. Twigg—I suggest to you, Mr. Brown, that you formed your opinion on gossip.

Mr. Brown—I do not gossip.

J. A. Loutet—The committee is trying to get at the real evidence. Have you any evidence to offer?

Mr. Brown—My point is you cannot get at the evidence in a political inquiry. Mr. Brian, a timekeeper at one of the North Okanagan camps, hung around here for three weeks, and was not called. I formed my opinion on the whole atmosphere of the inquiry.

WAS NOT PRESENT

Mr. Twigg—Can you say that, when you were not here, to get the atmosphere of the inquiry? Can you give us any details of evidence as to waste in the camps? For instance, you are quoted as saying that "there was a careful plan of distorting the truth." What did you mean by that?

Mr. Brown explained that he had not sought to apply the criticism to any member of the committee, its counsel, or to the committee as a whole. The distortion lay in the evidence, he averred, but declined to give the name of any particular witness.

T. D. Pattullo, leader of the Opposition, interjected that he agreed entirely with Mr. Brown, and a crossfire between Liberal and Conservative members followed, in which Mr. Pattullo was told by the chairman that he was "acting like a child of sixteen." Mr. Pattullo rejoined that the chairman could "take that double."

Mr. Brown resumed. He explained that with his trained mentality he had followed the whole course of the inquiry, through the transcript of evidence, and had formed his conclusions on private information as well. His conclusions were not political, and not applied in any sense as a criticism of any member of the committee, other than the political character of the whole investigation. He saw ahead difficult times, amounting to a crisis, and believed that public confidence was being lost by the treatment given to the whole issue.

REPUTABLE WITNESSES

Mr. Twigg reminded Mr. Brown that representations had been laid before the committee, either in briefs or in person, by the Vancouver Board of Trade, Victoria Chamber of Commerce, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Trades and Labor Councils, the Mayors or Aldermen of Vancouver, Victoria, and other witnesses, together with three members of the Cabinet, including the Ministers of Finance, Works, and Mines. Would Mr. Brown say these witnesses were conspiring to any plan to distort the evidence?

Witness replied his remarks were intended as general, and would not apply to these witnesses.

T. D. Pattullo, A. M. Manson and Dr. W. H. Sutherland, Liberal committeemen, said they fully agreed with the criticisms made by Mr. Brown.

Colonel Fred Lister, James H. Beatty, J. A. Loutet, W. R. Rutledge and J. W. Berry, on the Government side, declared they could not understand how anyone who had not attended a single meeting of the inquiry, would be competent to judge of its course. Mr. Brown repeated that he "had listened-in, in a radio sense," to the inquiry, and had been given access to a transcript of the evidence.

AGAINST PARTY RULE

Mr. Twigg—Are you one of the gentlemen in Vancouver who are desirous of doing away with party Government?

Mr. Brown—I am. I am concerned with the gravity of the crisis, and I want the people to have a share in the handling of the matter. We must not even have the suggestion of extravagance. There was more than a suggestion that prices were paid for supplies in excess of what was right, and this has not been satisfactorily answered by the evidence.

Witness was under questioning for some further time, repeating what he had said before.

Mr. Pattullo—The committee has crucified Mr. Brown.

Mr. Twigg—Do you consider that you have been crucified, Mr. Brown?

Mr. Brown—Not at all. Politics do not enter into it at all with me. In my remarks I was referring equally to both sides of the House, to members on the committee from both sides. It all confirms my belief that a parliamentary inquiry cannot get at the core of the matter. I am indebted to you for your kindness, and to Mr. Pattullo for the humor of the situation.

The committee closed its public hearing finally, after E. D. Johnson, deputy minister of finance, had been recalled to tell of the arrival on April 5 of $500,000 from Ottawa to bring prior records up to date.

After the press and public had retired, the committee considered the report that will be made to the Legislature. After hearing the report read, the leader of the Opposition asserted the terms of the inquiry had not been carried out, and left the room, accompanied by Dr. W. H. Sutherland. A. M. Manson, K.C., stayed with the committee to the close of its deliberations.

CURRENCY ROAD TO PROSPERITY

But, proceeded the trade minister, Parliament was not assembled to discuss obtuse constitutional issues or debate whether one man or another should be a lighthouse-keeper. "We are here to face courageously the economic problems which confront this country," and so far the Government had received very little assistance, in the form of constructive suggestions, from the Opposition.

DEFENDS GOVERNMENT

Defending the Government's action in applying the dumping duty to offset the fall in the pound sterling after Great Britain abandoned the gold standard, Mr. Stevens said this step had been taken to thwart speculators.

A few bright spots existed on the Canadian trade horizon, said Mr. Stevens. Gold production was increasing, the footwear trade showed an increase and exports of bacon, copper, butter and cheese were increasing. "Undoubtedly," he said, "the dollar value of the exports and of trade in general has fallen tremendously, but the quantity value has not fallen to anything like the same degree."

Mr. Stevens was followed in the debate by A. A. Heaps, financial critic for the Labor party, who contended the Government of Canada was a political democracy alongside a financial autocracy. Municipalities, provincial legislatures and even Parliament could scarcely move except at the dictations of financial interests.

The hundreds of thousands of heads of families in this country should be enabled to balance their budgets before the Government, Mr. Heaps declared. Was it logical that because a country could not sell its products since other countries had no money, that citizens should be obliged to go hungry and barefoot while the elevators were full of grain and warehouses full of clothing.

ATTACKS BUDGET

Lashing out in a multiple attack on the Government's record, Hon. J. L. Ralston, financial critic for the Liberals, led off the budget debate. The last two years, he said, had been noted for rising taxation, increased debt, stifled trade and unemployment.

Directing his chief offensive against the trade policy of the administration, the former Minister of National Defence criticized "putting a barbed-wire fence" around Canada, primarily an exporting country. This, coupled with "manipulation" of duties by order-in-council, has resulted in Canadian trade dropping one half in two years. Canada was likened to "a storekeeper solemnly barricading his front and back doors and sitting down in his shop swapping jackknives with his family across the head of a barrell, thinking he is carrying on trade."

Colonel Ralston moved an amendment to the budget motion, tantamount to a want of confidence in the Government. This will be debated in the general discussion.

form of "business" government, or a nonparty movement. Public opinion was not sufficiently informed on the question of legislative representation, he declared. Reduction of the House to some of the limits that these agencies had proposed would mean government by a bureaucracy of the Civil Service, and would not be in the public interest.

British Columbia had two well defined classes of districts, including large urban centres with dense population, and territorially huge areas, with often a diversity of commercial interest. It was far more than a mathematical problem to give due voice to such areas, he continued.

Mr. Pattullo said he would have welcomed appointment of a legislative committee to have advised on redistribution, as had been done in 1923. Under this course the difficulties faced by the Legislature could have been made obvious to the public.

"As for nonparty Governments, we had then in the days prior to the late Sir Richard McBride, and they were in constant turmoil, due to the personal ambition of those who took part in such ministries. When Sir Richard formed the first party Government, the country was faced with a grave situation, and a meeting of bankers was called to take steps to prevent the Province from defaulting on its obligation. The banks at that day advanced $1,000,000 to the party Government then formed under Sir Richard McBride," Mr. Pattullo stated.

MANY SUCH ATTEMPTS

The Leader of the Opposition recalled that there had been six or seven ministries in the course of a few years, under the nonparty plan, some lasting only a few months, and none longer than two or three years. It became notoriously a question of the "ins" and the "outs," and a degree of unstable administration of public affairs had been the only result, he declared.

"I am just as anxious as anyone for the good Government of British Columbia, but we have had sufficient examples of a "business Government, and no other comment is necessary," Mr. Pattullo stated. In closing, he regretted the Government's intention to abolish Columbia, and to throw Alberni in with Nanaimo; but concurred in the new seat for the Peace River.

HISTORY RECALLED

Thomas King, Liberal Member for Columbia, regretted the elimination of his riding, and traced its settlement history back to 1807, when David Thompson had forced his way down the Columbia, with the era of rail construction and gold development that successively followed in later years. As to the actual change made, the division of Columbia between two adjacent ridings, he believed this would not work out satisfactorily, by reason of the range of mountains in between.

Dr. L. E. Borden (Conservative, Nelson) entered formal protest to the bill, on the ground of the union of Creston and Nelson, which, he said, would be resented in those areas. Vancouver, he charged, had swayed the judgment of the Government, in demanding one more seat, giving nine in the greater Mainland area. Out of a total reduction of one in the House, the Kootenay areas would lose two seats, he said, in conclusion.

COL. LISTER CONCURS

Col. Fred Lister (Conservative, Creston) concurred. Coast areas had exercised an unfair influence in the matter of redistribution, he declared. The need of country areas was the greater by reason of the isolation and scattered nature of the population.

J. W. Berry (Conservative, Delta) supported the bill, saying the addition of part of Richmond to his territory was welcome. He was in agreement with the Leader of the Opposition that the membership of the House could not well be reduced, and concurred in the new seat for the Peace area.

Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., defended Vancouver, and said its claims had been very moderate in this instance. Its population had increased 50 per cent in the last decade and no pressure had been brought on the ground of such increase. Country Members should not forget that in taxation Victoria and Vancouver paid their full share.

NO SERIOUS TROUBLE

On the general question of party government, Mr. Maitland said that British Columbia had been freer since Confederation from any charge of graft or corruption in public life than any other province in the Dominion. It was an uninformed view that held that nonparty government would improve anything. The party system was by no means perfect but the best yet found under British practice for more than a hundred years. Government was not, and should never become, a cold-blooded matter of dollars and cents, he concluded.

L. A. Hanna (Liberal, Alberni) entered vigorous protest against the elision of his seat with that of Nanaimo. There was not even a community of interest to justify this course, and the whole West Coast section from the canal to the top of the Island would be left in a neglected state, he argued. Capt. George Vancouver and many other famous pioneering navigators had put into the Sound, and the port had become the third largest in British Columbia in point of lumber shipments handled.

J. W. Cornett (Conservative, South Vancouver) regretted the passing of that constituency, but said he would support the bill. Division followed after some further debate. The House divided on party lines, with Dr. Borden and Mr. Hayward voting against the measure with the Opposition. Mr. Hayward had previously explained that he believed a good deal more cutting could have been done and Victoria Members had paved the way by offering to forego two seats. Second reading carried, on division.

INSURANCE TAX TO BE DROPPED

Says Proposed Levy of Fifteen Per Cent on Premiums to Be Withdrawn

TORONTO, April 11.—The Dominion Government has decided to withdraw the proposed 15 per cent tax upon gross premiums paid by Canadian policyholders in British and foreign insurance companies, Hon. W. H. Price, Ontario Attorney-General, said last night. Colonel Price made the announcement on his return from Saturday's parley between the Dominion Government and officials of the nine provincial governments.

Because such companies are now operating under provincial licences, Colonel Price said, the tax will not be levied. Instead the Attorney-General believes these companies will be included in the general tax of 1 per cent of net premiums, announced in the budget brought down in Parliament last week by Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes.

ANNOUNCEMENT SHORTLY

Announcement of the modification of the taxes would be forthcoming from Ottawa in a few days, he said.

"As far as I could gather an error had been made and it had not been intended that the tax should apply to the companies now operating under provincial licences and registered in the provinces," said Colonel Price. "I believe they will be subjected to the same tax as the other companies now doing business in Canada."

Under the proposed tax, policyholders of British and foreign mutual and reciprocal insurance concerns, which accept a premium deposit twenty times as great as the eventual premium collected, would have been taxed at the rate of 15 per cent of the gross premium. The tax would have affected risks totaling more than $400,000,000 in Canada and paying premiums approximately $4,000,000.

OVERWHELMS OPPONENTS IN FINAL VOTING

That the Hitler movement apparently came to a standstill would seem to be indicated by the fact that, although his increase from 31.1 per cent of the vote on March 13 to 36.6 per cent today was substantial, yet the difference did not equal the vote cast for Lieut.-Colonel Theodore Duesterberg, the Nationalist candidate of four weeks ago, which was 6.8 of the total in the first election.

INCREASED PERCENTAGE

The uselessness of today's run-off was demonstrated, not only by the failure of all the Nationalists to swing to the Fascist nominee, but also by the fact that Von Hindenburg increased the percentage of his own vote from 49.6 to 55.9.

Perhaps no public man in Germany was happier over the result than Chancellor Heinrich Bruening, who sat in solitude in his study as the returns were delivered.

The Chancellor plans to leave Berlin Wednesday night for negotiations of vital interest to Germany at Geneva, and must soon face Germany's creditors at Lausanne.

A Government spokesman said the National Socialists evidently had reached the limit of what they could obtain from the middle class and that further gains, if any, must be obtained from the Communists, who apparently already had gone over in part to Hitler. President Von Hindenburg's gain of 717,000 votes over his total of March 13 could only have come from the Duesterberg camp, the spokesman said.

HITLER'S GAIN

Hitler's gain of roughly 2,000,000 votes over his former total came chiefly from the districts where Duesterberg's "Steel Helmet" organization of war veterans is strongly organized, such as in Potsdam and Thuringia. In the opinion of the Government this did not represent a permanent gain for Fascism, but most of the voters in elections to the "diets would vote for Alfred Hugenberg's German Nationalist slate."

With the presidential election out of the way, political interest centred upon the diet elections in Prussia and other states on April 24, which, it is felt will give a true measure of political strength to the Fascist movement. On that date elections will be held to the diets, or state assemblies, of Prussia, Bavaria, Wurtemberg, Hamburg and Anhalt.

The text of the notes was made public this afternoon by Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominions, with the brief remark that Great Britain in unmistakeable language stands by the terms of the treaty. The House cheered his statement, although some Opposition members protested the manner in which it was made left no opportunity for discussion.

AMOUNTS TO REPUDIATION

And the British dispatch of April 9, the latest in the series, it was significant to note, held that President de Valera's message of April 5 raised a point of far wider importance than the oath of allegiance or the land annuities. President de Valera actually raised the issue of nothing less than repudiation of the entire Irish treaty, the British note said.

President de Valera was explicit in his statement that when the Dail Eireann reassembles on April 20 he will submit a Government bill striking the oath from the constitution of the Irish Free State. The Fianna Fail, of which party he is the leader, has no clear majority in the Dail, but the Labor party, which holds the balance of power between the Republicans and the forces of former President William T. Cosgrave, has already indicated its intention of supporting such a bill.

MAY APPEAL TO COUNTRY

But if President de Valera encounters difficulties either in the Dail or the Senate, it is considered not unlikely that he will seek dissolution and appeal to the country for a clear majority.

The issue between the two Governments over the land annuities is not so sharply defined as over the oath of allegiance. So far as the oath is concerned, the British note contained an illuminating paragraph declaring there could be no conceivable union in Ireland if the allegiance to the Crown or membership in the Commonwealth was impaired. President de Valera had said the Irish treaty split the country.

BINDING IN LAW AND HONOR

President de Valera wanted details of the formal and explicit undertaking to pay the annuities mentioned by the British Government. The British Government in turn cited the financial agreement, signed February 12, 1923, and confirmed by the settlement signed March 19, 1926. The British Government repeated the undertaking was binding in law and honor on the Irish Free State.

It is felt likely that the upshot of the dispute over the land annuities will be reference of the issue to the Imperial Tribunal, for which provision was made at the last Imperial Conference.

While the Speaker upheld Mr. Thomas' action in merely presenting the notes, it is felt the whole question of the relations between Britain and the Irish Free State will be made the subject of a full-dress debate in the Commons before long.

GETS DAMAGES FOR INJURIES

Special Jury Awards Beatrice M. Lane $250 After All-Day Trial

Assessing damages at $1,000, but finding the plaintiff contributed 75 per cent of the negligence, and the defendant 25 per cent, thus allowing the plaintiff $250 damages, was the verdict of a special jury in Supreme Court here yesterday in an action brought by Beatrice M. Lane, of Cobble Hill, against the B.C. Electric Railway Company, Limited. Mr. Justice Denis Murphy presided.

The action resulted from a collision between an automobile, driven by Mrs. Lane, and a bus, operated by the B.C. Electric, at the intersection of Yates Street and Fernwood Road on October 17, last, in which Mrs. Lane sustained injuries which required medical treatment over a considerable period. E. C. Mayers, K.C., appeared as counsel for Mrs. Lane, and Harold B. Robertson, K.C., with Roy Manzer, appeared for the defendant company.

Considerable evidence was submitted by both sides and it was not until 4:30 p.m. that the jury retired to consider the verdict. The jury returned at 6 o'clock.

COLLIDES WITH BUS

The evidence indicated that Mrs. Lane was driving west on Yates Street, and the bus was making the turn from Yates into Fernwood Road when the collision occurred. The driver of the bus testified he had signaled in the prescribed manner, but Mrs. Lane's auto continued into the intersection and collided with the bus.

Mrs. Lane said she failed to see the bus until it was right in front of her auto. She maintained she was observing traffic to her right, and the approach of a Blue Line bus had taken her attention at the moment.

The question of right-of-way entered largely into the case and considerable stress was laid on that feature by His Lordship in his address to the jury. He read from the Western Weekly Reports (Kennedy Lumber Co. vs. Porter, vol. 1, page 230), which, he said, gave a very clear conception of the law in respect to the right-of-way. In that case the plaintiff had the right-of-way, and was entitled to assume that the car on his left would obey the rules of the road. On the other hand, Mr. Justice Murphy remarked, where the one car has the right-of-way over other traffic, it does not necessarily follow that the person having the right-of-way should wholly rely on that fact for safety.

DAMAGES APPORTIONED

As in other cases of a similar nature, with a jury, Mr. Justice Murphy explained the quality of negligence and contributory negligence. The jury fixes the damages and, if the defendant is found to be wholly negligent, and his negligence was "the approximate cause of the accident," the plaintiff was entitled to the full amount assessed. Where the jury finds contributory negligence the amount of damages must be apportioned on a percentage basis. In the action tried yesterday, the jury found that Mrs. Lane was negligent to the extent of 25 per cent and the company, 75 per cent. The basis was $1,000.

Witnesses called during the trial were, Dr. E. W. Boak, D. L. Huckin, Beatrice Margaret Lane, John Johnson, John Heary, Beatrice M. Booth and Mary Ismay Kitchen for the plaintiff, and W. R. McIntosh, Alice Passmore, Ethel McCorkail, Harriet Edwards, B. Fox, C. Rownes, Ernest J. Miller, Edward N. Horsey and Constable George Hutchinson for the defendant company.

The special jury, which was drawn from the grand jury panel, comprised the following: A. McCorkindale, foreman; L. S. V. York, W. W. Duncan, Harold P. Johnson, Ernest G. Maynard, Robert M. Stewart, William A. Luney and William S. Oliver.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

PROVIDING FOR A DISCARD

An unusual situation, not generally appreciated by Bridge players, occurred in a contract tournament in Cleveland, in which only one of the contesting pairs reached the correct game declaration. This situation is presented in the hand shown below. The problem involved was one of finding a discard for a losing trick in a side suit, in order to realize the full trick-taking power of the combined hands. More than adequate trump support for both of South's suits was held by North, but only one pair realized the necessity of having a long side suit in the declaring hand in order to gain the vital tenth trick. This situation occurs occasionally and, through correct bidding methods, can be correctly appraised.

The players who had the satisfaction of making game, while others fell one trick short of that, were Mr. Russell J. Baldwin, secretary of the Cleveland Whist Club, playing the South hand, and Mr. A. G. Schuman, former president of the club, who held the North hand.

The hand and bidding were:
South—Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ K J 3 2 ♡ K 10 6 5 ◇ 10 2 ♣ 10 4 3
♠ 9 8 ♡ J 2 ◇ A Q 9 4 3 ♣ A K 9 5	W N E S	♠ 7 6 5 ♡ 8 7 ◇ J 7 6 5 ♣ J 8 7 6

The Bidding:

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
1♡(1)	2◇	2♡(2)	Pass
2♠(3)	Pass	3♠(4)	Pass
4♠(5)	Pass	Pass	Pass

1—Of course, bidding the longer of two biddable suits first.

2—The hand containing four tricks in support of the heart bid.

3—Correctly showing the second biddable suit.

4—Unsure of game, but willing to have partner make the choice of the final declaration.

5—South correctly grasps the situation. He realizes that if hearts are trump, no losers in the North hand can be discarded on the heart suit. However, if, as he believes, the heart suit is solid and his partner holds such support for spades that no tricks are lost in the trump suit, a discard of a lose in one of the side suits may be found on the fifth card.

South's holding of the king of diamonds indicates that the opening lead will be a club, as West, vulnerable, probably holds the major tenace in the suit which he has bid. West's bid has probably made valueless the diamond king.

In the play, West opened the king of clubs and continued with three rounds of that suit, the third round being ruffed by the declarer. The adverse trumps were then drawn and, as planned, Mr. Baldwin found a discard of one of the Dummy's losing diamonds on the fifth heart, thereby losing only two clubs and one diamond and scoring game. The bidding of North and South showed a keen appreciation of the trick-taking possibilities of the combined hands and South's bid of four spades, and after his partner had supported both suits, was absolutely correct. When partner has shown support, a four-card suit may be bid as freely as a five-card suit, and the nature of partner's bidding had quite clearly indicated the kind of support he held for the South hand.

Game, of course, would have been equally safe if the king of clubs had been located in the North hand. The fact that East had refused to support West's overcall strongly indicated that practically all the opposing strength was held by West.

TODAY'S POINTER

Possible unusual playing situations can frequently be recognized by the players during the bidding. Bidding is mental play, and inferences should be drawn as to playing situations, as well as honor and playing-tricks.

INSIDE STORY IN LINDBERGH CASE IS OUT

Details Revealed of Various Contacts Made With Kidnappers

PAYMENT OF MORE THAN $50,000 DENIED

HOPEWELL, N.J., April 11.—The "inside story" of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's unsuccessful ransom negotiations for the return of his son, came to light as the famous flyer waited tonight for a renewal of his contacts with the kidnappers.

The colonel held a definite means of identifying the men to whom he turned over $50,000 in $5, $10 and $20 bills, should they wish to communicate secretly with him once more, but from the Lindbergh home came word that "no further contacts had been established."

RECEIVED SEVEN NOTES

While the colonel waited for some message explaining the failure of the abductors to live up to their promise and return the baby, it was learned from an authoritative source that he had received at least seven notes from them, in addition to the original ransom demand left in the nursery forty-one days ago.

It was a characteristic of these notes, believed to be the strange signature, which convinced him he was dealing with the same persons who left the first note behind as they fled.

Branding the failure of the kidnappers to return the aviator's namesake a "tragic trick," The Washington Evening Star published what it called an amazing stock of events leading up to the payment of the $50,000.

The paper said Dr. John F. Condon, a retired New York educationist, made the ransom negotiations possible through a series of thirteen newspaper advertisements signed "Jafsie."

"DETAILS OF CONTACTS"

Details of the various contacts were described by the paper as follows:

On March 16, in an obscure spot on the shore of Long Island Sound, negotiators for the kidnappers held their first meeting with representatives of the Lindberghs. Dr. Condon and Henry Breckinbridge, the flyer's attorney, were present at the meeting.

Lindbergh had obtained a complete set of his son's fingerprints from toys and furniture in the nursery. He demanded a set from the kidnappers. They refused.

Instead they asked the $50,000 they demanded be left in a certain place, and promised, after they had had several days to escape, that the baby would be returned.

This Colonel Lindbergh refused to agree to. As stated in a Jafsie advertisement, he wanted it to be a "C.O.D." transaction.

THE REAL ARTICLE

Another meeting took place on March 24, near a cemetery, and the next day a Jafsie advertisement mentioned receipt of a package "accepted as the real article," apparently some article designed to prove the negotiators actually were acting for the real kidnappers.

Late on the night of April 1, Lindbergh, Colonel Breckinbridge and a third man, believed to have been John Fogarty, private detective called in by Breckinbridge, left in Lindbergh's car carrying two black suitcases and heavy wraps. The money, presumably, was in the bags.

Where they went is not known, but the money is believed to have been turned over to a representative of the abductors on the following morning.

That day a Jafsie advertisement said:

"Yes. Everything O.K." But it was interpreted as a notification to the kidnappers the money had been paid.

The promised answer, containing directions for finding the baby, followed. It said the child was on a boat off Cape Cod.

LOOKING FOR BOAT

On April 3 and 4, Lindbergh, Breckinbridge and at least one other man were seen in a plane in the vicinity of Martha's Vineyard, Mass. They were looking for a yacht named Sally or Nellie. They did not find it.

Tuesday passed without an explanation of why the agreement had not been carried out. On Wednesday a Jafsie advertisement read:

"What is wrong? Have you crossed me? Please better directions."

In addition to that story, The Star said the original ransom note threatened death to the baby if police were called in, and the paper also stated the abductors at one time expressed dissatisfaction with the publicity regarding the case, but that the amount was cut down to the original $50,000.

Police Superintendent Norman Schwarzkopf inferentially denied Colonel Lindbergh had paid more than $50,000 ransom.

John Hughes Curtis, one of the three Norfolk, Va. residents who have been active in the case, was still away from home on an aeroplane trip, the double purpose of which was to attempt to contact the kidnappers and to see Colonel Lindbergh.

PRESIDENT HINDENBURG RE-ELECTED

For the time being at least the re-election of President Hindenburg is a setback to Nazi hopes. The considerable vote polled by the followers of Herr Adoph Hitler, in the presidential contest of last month, a result which necessitated another election because Field Marshal Hindenburg failed to secure a majority of half the votes cast, had given a lot of encouragement to the Nazis. At the same time their campaign leading up to last Sunday's election was somewhat half-hearted. They realized that they were facing defeat, and a semi-official announcement from headquarters was that their political concentration for the time being would be on the state elections, where they have made considerable gains in the last year.

The triumph of President Hindenburg is a remarkable tribute to the aged leader of the Reich and the tituiar head of his country. His whole career is an illustration of how good men are in constant demand in the service of the state. At a time when he had retired from active military service he was recalled to lead the armies of his country against Russia in the early stages of the Great War. He won some notable victories, and, having destroyed the Russian hopes of successfully invading East Prussia, he was nominated to the supreme command of the German Armies in the field. He held that post to the end of the war and seems, unlike some other German military leaders, to have bowed to the revolution which drove the Emperor from the throne. In peace and war he has been the most popular figure in Germany for the past fourteen years. There is every likelihood that his present term of office is his last. He is anxious to retire. The election is a personal tribute to his worth. It may be doubted, however, if the result can be construed as an endorsement of the policies of Chancellor Bruening.

THE FREE STATE'S TWO ARMIES

There is an anomaly in the situation that has developed in Free State Ireland in the presence of two armies—one the official force and the other the Republican Army. The latter is pledged to the restoration of an All-Ireland Republic. It would not be satisfied with winning independence for the Free State. It wishes also to include Northern Ireland within the aegis of its desires, and would do so by force if possible. At present that army is withholding its hand awaiting the action of Mr. Eamonn de Valera in his determination to abolish the Oath of Allegiance and repudiate the payment of land annuities to the British Government. If Mr. de Valera compromises, and in any case if he does not follow the full route of achieving republicanism for Ireland, then the Republican Army will show its hand. It is the presence of that organization that is driving the new Irish Free State President to the course he is pursuing.

Mr. M. Twomey, one of the leaders of the Republican Army, says that its objects and task are not accomplished until an All-Ireland Republic "is restored." Those in control of the army were imprisoned by the Government of ex-President Cosgrave. One of the first acts of Mr. de Valera on assuming power was to release them from jail. He permitted the Republican Army to hold a parade on Easter Sunday, thereby acknowledging its right to be in existence. Despite doing this, Mr. de Valera has stated that two armies cannot be tolerated in the Free State. If he believes this he must either take steps to check the extreme activities of the Republicans or absorb them into the ranks of the regular army. For the time being he is adopting neither course; in fact, he is just marking time, hoping that his defiance of the British Government's attitude on the Oath of Allegiance and land annuities will satisfy the aspiration of the Republicans. The situation created by two armies, both seemingly recognized, would be possible under no one but Mr. de Valera. It is an anachronism in the realm of government.

EXPLOITING HEALTH INSURANCE

Both proponents of State Health Insurance and those who oppose this method of subvention in the interests of health will learn with interest of certain conditions that have arisen in the process of the system in Great Britain. There the financial position of the scheme is causing a lot of anxiety. The insurance principle is endangered by loss of income through the high percentage of unemployed among insured persons, through higher sickness and disablement claims by insured persons, and by the excessively high claims made by women, and particularly married women. Thus the system, as was inevitable, is being abused.

The scheme has been kept going in Great Britain through a state grant to meet the unpaid contributions of unemployment members. The loss is not restricted to the contribution income. As well, the seriously heavy increase in sickness claims has added to the burden, partly due to malingering. A correspondent in The London Times, in explaining what is happening, says: "When National Health Insurance was brought into operation and Mr. Lloyd George 'Germanized' sickness insurance, many men and women brought compulsorily into the scheme resented the deduction from their wages. 'The state is taxing me each week I am at work. Why should not I have the money back, and have a good time with it?" That spirit has grown to an alarming extent with the widening of social insurance services by the state. It is no uncommon thing for a man or woman to follow a period on the unemployment fund with a period on the sickness fund." In other words, health insurance is exploited by its beneficiaries.

As illustrative of the above it is noted by Sir Arthur Watson, the Government Actuary, that in 1926, the year of the general strike in Great Britain, the sickness claims of the miners rose by 60 per cent. The miners could not draw unemployment benefits during the strike. They found a way to relief by drawing upon sick funds. In the matter of the heavy claims being made by women, Sir Arthur Watson says that "from the data examined it was found that in a representative group of approved societies the sickness claims of unmarried women have risen by 29 per cent and those of married women by 42 per cent between 1923 and 1927. In the case of disablement benefit the respective increases were 54 per cent and 87 per cent. These are very disquiting figures compared with the extra provision of 10 per cent on the rates of the year 1923 which is made by the valuation basis."

As matters stand at present, the state subsidy to keep health insurance going is weakening the insurance principle of the structure. The system is becoming a greater burden on the taxpayers all the time, and the manner in which it is being exploited is weakening the moral fibre of the people just as it is bound to weaken it everywhere that such a method is adopted.

EMPIRE SOFT WOODS

Lord Lovat, one of those most keenly interested in the development of timber trade within the Empire, has been commenting on the 450,000 standard timber deal recently concluded by British importers with Russia. He believes this deal is, at least in part, due to the persistent and active propaganda relative to the cheapness, excellence and suitability of the Russian timber, and with that propaganda as well overstating the exiguity of supply, lack of standardization, inaccuracy of sawing, unsuitability of size and the faulty drying and shrinkage of Empire timber.

Lord Lovat admits that no soft wood produced in the Empire can compete in price with the forced-labor products of Russia. At the same time there is much timber in the Empire eminently suited for British requirements. He asks that the forthcoming Imperial Conference should discuss the amount and character of soft wood available in the Empire and ascertain under what conditions it could be marketed in Great Britain. The statistics concerning standing timber, production and exports are available. As to products from the principal centre of export of Empire soft woods—British Columbia—Lord Lovat says, "all the necessary facts have long since been worked out by the United States, a country which consumes nearly half the soft wood sawn timber of the world."

The contention by Lord Lovat is that the Imperial Conference should have in its possession full information of what the Empire can produce. Then it should decide, "both on the score of humanity and self-interest," that what is possible will be done to support any arrangement, "to increase the trade of those who deal with us, and limit, so far as is commercially possible, trade with a nation that neither buys our goods nor competes in our markets on fair terms."

MAGIC SEAS

These things I love—the sweeping storms of wind
That blow across the lonely moor
When Winter comes and clouds like galleons sail
Across the sky; rivers in spate, and woods
That hold no echo of a song, but stand
With dripping thickets and bare leafless trees,
Where oft in Summers past the ringdoves crooned
Until the waning of the day brought dream
Of peace and plenty to each little head
That nestled softly beneath folded wing.

Storm-driven seas I love when swaying ships
Have made their harbors and at anchor lie—
Storm-driven seas that surge along the coast
And threaten old grey castles that recall
Forgotten time. New centuries have come
And gone, and still the ruined piles that once
Were homes gaze out across the wind-blown sea
Where gannets wheel, and dive, and rise again
On tireless wings that in a season bear
Those gleaming bodies o'er unthart'd deeps.

Thus, soaring outward over magic seas
Goes memory, seeking in bygone scenes
The beauty of an undeparted dream;
Seeking a land where mountains loom against
Far skies like frontiers of another world;
Where bullochs lie above the tide-swept shores,
And where the purple heather blossomed once
For us—for us who left the lonely moor
But cannot quite forget. Ah, those are dreams
That speak to us of home and days long past.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Men at some time are masters of their fates:
The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars,
But in ourselves, that we are underlings.
—Shakespeare.

Every man is the architect of his own fortune.—Sallust.

We wonder whether the reader remembers the story (which may be a fable) of the Pampered Pelicans of Santa Monica. The story was first printed in a California newspaper. The Christian Science Monitor cut it out of the California newspaper and printed it. We cut it out of The Christian Science Monitor and printed it. Since then many newspapers have printed it—and it is probably the most widely circulated story ever printed. We suppose there must be a reason for the avidity with which all the newspapers have seized that story and printed it—and we surmise the reason is that there is a moral to the story and that moral is applicable to the conditions of this time and to other creatures than pelicans.

* * *

The pelicans of Santa Monica adorned a tale because they had acquired the habit of living upon dolcs. Santa Monica was at one time a fishing port, and the fishermen were in the habit of casting all the refuse of their catch into the waters of the bay. So instead of the pelicans following the ordained plan of catching their own fish they lived in fullness if not in luxury upon the refuse of the man-caught fish. But there came an evil day when there were no more fish in the sea which washes the shores of Santa Monica. Probably the waters were overfished, as has been known to happen in other waters fished by our American neighbors, who are more concerned in the present than they are in the future.

* * *

At any rate the Santa Monica fisheries became exhausted. The fishermen migrated to other parts of the state, and there was no more refuse for the poor, deluded pelicans to eat. The birds were thrown upon their own resources, but they had been so long pampered that they were incapable of earning their own living after the manner of their ancestors. So they floated around in the impoverished waters and waited for something to turn up; and the longer they waited the poorer in condition they became, and were quite querulous in their complaints that the elements which once provided them with a fat living without exertion seemed to be quite unconcerned about their new conditions of life and neglected to turn something up that would fit into their capacious "nebs."

* * *

Then something happened which demonstrated the truth of the ancient proverb that "the Lord helps those who help themselves" and the negative truth more applicable to their desperate case, "Lord help those who will not help themselves." One day some strange pelicans arrived in the waters off Santa Monica. Having been accustumed ever since the day when they shed the down of their youth and grew feathers to catch their own fish, the strangers did not sit in indolence along the shore waiting for the human fishermen to feed them upon refuse. They did not hold meetings and pass resolutions declaring that the waters owed them a living. They went to work and demonstrated to the pampered pelicans (which had become thin and weak while waiting for something to turn up) that there were still plenty of fish in the sea for aquatic birds which had the will and the energy to go forth and catch them. The good example thus set opened the eyes of the pampered pelicans to the true state of their case. So they stopped holding meetings and squawking resolutions. They said to themselves individually, what those strangers can do we can do; they reverted to their natural state and began to catch their own fish, and soon were as efficient in their business and as fat and sleek in their bodies as the strangers within their waters.

* * *

Such is the story which is going the rounds of all the newspapers, and which was first published without premonition of its moral and the applicability of that moral to creatures of an assumed higher order of intelligence. We "see by the papers" that a Pelican Club has been organized in Vancouver with industry for a moto and a pelican on the rampage for a crest. There are many service clubs in Vancouver and other cities. The best service any club can do to any community under existing conditions is broadcast the doctrine that God helps those who help themselves.

* * *

We have no doubt that if the pampered pelicans had been capable of expressing themselves in human terms they would have blamed their circumstances upon "the system." But the system was of their own creation, and it was but artificial and temporary. When it failed them and they were thrown upon their own resources they saved themselves from disaster by going to work in accordance with the decrees of Nature. The pampered pelicans learned by experience that Nature had provided them with the means of making a living for themselves, but that the waters did not owe them a living until they had availed themselves of their natural equipment and earned a living for themselves. The depression of which we have heard and read too much will soon be forgotten, like all depressions which have preceded it, when we all realize the basic truth of the apothegm that man is the master of his own fate.

New Monthly Deals With Problems of B.C.

A monthly magazine dealing with public affairs and particularly matters of provincial political concern has made its appearance in Victoria under the editorship of Mr. S. M. Carter. It is known as British Columbia Truth, and in its editorial foreword it disclaims being a political paper in the sense that it is a party organ, but it will seek, with as much "clarity of thought and vision" as possible, to put forward rival views affecting politics.

The initial issue contains an intimate sketch of Dr. S. F. Tolmie, the Provincial Premier. There is matter affecting the activities of the various departments of the Provincial Government; an article on "Pluck, Work and Co-operation" by Roy A. Jardine, and one on "The Wealth of British Columbia" by A. B. E. The magazine is brightly written, contains much useful information and obviously intends to continue to deal with the problems affecting provincial development. It should be able to find a niche among the publications of British Columbia as an informer of public opinion. Mr. Carter, the editor and manager, is a good publicist.

ENEMIES

What are the enemies
That rob man of his ease
And form the sombre train
That brings him fear and pain?
Not the relentless foe
He dreaded long ago;
Not the unfaithful friend
Who failed him in the end.

Each man must look within
To find the stealthy sin,
The evil deed or quest
He cherished in his breast;
The malice lurking there,
The envy or despair;
These are the fearful things
From which his sorrow springs.

All bitterness, all doubt—
Each man must root them out,
And from his soul must fling
The dark desires that sting,
Lest he prove in the end
His own unfaithful friend!

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any table, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Sonshees drydock add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

COLLUSION

Sir,—In advertisements for the capture of absconding criminals, or for the recovery of stolen property, a reward for private information as to the whereabouts of such is, I think, never mentioned, for I am told that this would be illegal "collusion."

For instance, many years ago, both in Australia and New Zealand I recovered two or three dogs that had been stolen by offering a reward, not for the return of the dog, but for private information as to the whereabouts of the animal in question; also stating that all communications would be held in strictest confidence. Even in Chicago I had a very valuable bull mastiff stolen. I offered $5 reward for information such as I have stated, and received a postcard telling me where the dog was to be found, and recovered same. But on returning to England (after doing "twenty years' hard" in the Australian Colonies) on sending an advertisement to The London Daily Telegraph for private information as to the whereabouts of a dog I had, which had been stolen, to my surprise I was informed that the paper could not have this advertisement inserted as the police would say it was "collusion." Also, here in Victoria, some time last year I advised a lady whose canine friend had been stolen, to adopt this method of advertising, but the wording had to be altered owing, I believe, to "collusion."

There are doubtless many people who know the whereabouts of some of our much-wanted criminals, but who will not give the information required to the police except for a reward and a guarantee that the informer's name, if given, will be kept secret.

Take now, for instance, the Lindbergh case. If in the first instance a reward had been offered for private information as to the whereabouts of the child, or for information that would lead to the conviction of the kidnappers, also stating that all communications would be held in strictest confidence, I firmly believe that long ere this the child, if still alive, would have been recovered. Instead of doing so, intermediaries are being used to bring the kidnappers and Colonel Lindberg's representatives into communication. Now, if this is not "collusion," in my humble opinion it is certainly compounding a felony, but—Quien sabe.

CIVIC FINANCES

Sir,—Will you kindly permit me space to reply to a letter appearing in Sunday's Colonist from a Mr. W. Tayler, which reads as follows: "He (Alderman Litchfield) is the gentleman reported in your columns as saying he would vote for the publicity grant, whether the public wanted it or not."

May I state no such statement was ever on any occasion expressed by myself. On the contrary, I have opposed year by year the annual grant of $25,000 to the Tourist Association. I have pressed for a referendum. I have asked for a 20 per cent reduction and that the management be severed from any connection with the Chamber of Commerce, and that the association be placed under direct and full control of the City Council, and I have received my reward, namely, my name for years does not appear on any committee connected with the association.

Now Mr. Tayler, the person who made the remarks, is known to myself, but you have made a charge against me which is not correct. May I ask you to be a sportsman and withdraw your statements in the press.

Let there be light. With regard to our cluster lights, if we turn off one-half the lights one hour earlier each evening we can save $1.35 per night, less than $500 per year. At what loss—I consider our well-lighted downtown streets and our well-dressed store windows are two of the so few attractions we can offer to strangers and our own folk after dinner at night, and we claim to be a tourist city. I conclude, "Let there be light, and lots of it."

MOUNT DOUGLAS PARK

Sir,—Premier S. F. Tolmie, Alderman Worthington, Reeve William Crouch and Patrick Philip, deputy minister of public works, made a tour last week of Mount Douglas Park area, where improvement works are being carried out, and approved of the work.

The Victoria-Saanich Parks and Beaches Committee plans to enlarge the picnic grounds by clearing four acres and erecting a cedar log gateway to the park. We are never so likely to settle a question rightly as when we discuss it freely, therefore, it would be interesting to know if, while at the park, Reeve Crouch and Alderman Worthington pointed out to the Premier the particular cedar tree it is proposed to cut down to obtain the material to build the cedar log gateway. Was the Premier shown the stumps of the beautiful cedars which were cut down to obtain the sixteen posts necessary to build the fence across the gravel pits (and which, by the way, were charged in the estimates back to us at $3.90).

These trees, eighteen months ago, were growing close to the roadside—magnificent specimens towering seventy-five feet high. Now we behold them supporting a piece of ugly fence.

Was the Premier shown the dozen beautiful major fir trees close to the roadside which have been stripped of their bark with axes, and carried away in expensive automobiles? Was the Premier shown the new loads of garbage which have been continuously, in ever increasing quantities recently, dumped alongside the roadway in the park—the soup tins, tomato cans, the loads of rotting, stinking vegetable matter from the city cafes, and the garbage cans on the picnic grounds which have been filled to overflowing since Good Friday, notwithstanding the fifty men employed at the park?

Was the Premier shown the still unprotected top of the gravel pit with its thirty-five-foot perpendicular sides; the lack of notices regulating the speed of vehicular traffic through the park, or prohibiting the dumping of garbage in the area?

It has been stated that when George Bernard Shaw visited the Soviet Union, he was shown just what the authorities wanted him to see. If this is true, then we have a parallel case in the Premier's visit to Mount Douglas Park.

There is no contradiction in saying that a certain few elected representatives of the community may be quite competent to protect the property of the rest, though when it comes to "maintaining and preserving Mount Douglas Park," as was stipulated in the deed of trust conveying the park to Victoria, there is no evidence to substantiate this assertion; and what is more to the point, never will be as long as the administration of this area remains in the hands of the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee.

PICKING WILD LILIES

Sir,—With the subject of the conservation of our forests prominently before the public notice, perhaps a plea for the preservation of the lilies, now in their full beauty, may not be out of place.

For children to wish to gather flowers is a very natural desire, but surely parents and teachers should instruct them in the correct way to do so.

To see roads bestrewn with stems and leaves of the lilies is heartbreaking, when one remembers how many bulbs are destroyed by this careless method of picking the flowers. Perhaps if this matter were brought to the children's notice, and adults also, for they are offenders, this ruthless destruction would cease. ELEANOR HALL.

BACK TO THE LAND

Sir,—In reference to the article inserted in the Saturday issue, page ten, I would appreciate if you could publish the following letter:

After reception of correspondence from different localities and boards of trade, showing great interest in the new Victoria Co-operative Colony, a meeting was held at the writer's residence and the group in question is very anxious to make the start. As the scheme proposed is for the interest of all those desirous to see prosperity back again, the promoter decided to keep the public in touch with every move made by the party. After selection of the area, 17,000 acres, the party will return to Victoria and make final arrangement with the Government. An opportunity to speak at the Chamber of Commerce will be solicited and complete details, giving evidence of the trip, ground covered, the nature of it, location and possibilities, will be explained, as well as the aim and object of the new Victoria Co-operative Colony.

The group would sincerely appreciate the assistance of the public or from anyone able and willing. We would like to get the loan of a car and the financial assistance for the three weeks' trip. Anyone wishing to help can. Address correspondence to the writer, or visit him at the following address, any day after 5 p.m.

PROTEST VOICED BY NATIVE SONS

Victoria Post of B.C. Body Against Further Destruction of Trees at Mount Douglas Park

Victoria Post No. 1, Native Sons of British Columbia, took up the cudgels last night in the Mount Douglas Park dispute and passed a resolution protesting against further destruction of trees and natural greenery in that area. The general opinion of the meeting was that the trees would, if left standing, be invaluable in years to come.

It was also decided that the members would do everything in their power to bring to the attention of the public the Old Craigflower School, its history and its relics and to offer their aid in its support in any way possible.

With the approach of the baseball season, the organization decided to enter a team in the softball league and Jack Taylor was placed in charge.

George A. Gardiner, chief factor, was in the chair, and at the conclusion of the meeting, bridge was enjoyed by the members, Fred Waller and Richard Turan winning the prizes. Refreshments were served.

SUCCUMBED ON SUNDAY

There passed away Sunday morning at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. Bate, of 3154 Davin Street, Jacob Simpson, aged eighty-two years, born in England and a resident of this city for forty-five years. He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Edwin John, of 2938 Foul Bay Road. The funeral will take place on Wednesday at 3:15 o'clock from the Sands Mortuary Chapel. Charles Morgan will officiate, and the remains will be laid to rest in Shady Creek Cemetery, Saanichton.

RELIEF WORK IS OBTAINED

C. H. Dickie, M.P., Secures $16,000 Grant to Be Expended in Esquimalt

Through the efforts of C. H. Dickie, M.P. for Nanaimo, between 120 and 140 Esquimalt men will be employed at the Esquimalt Drydock, at $4 a day, it was learned at a meeting of the Municipal Council last night. Last Saturday thirty men started the work, which includes improvements to the drydock and roads, and yesterday an additional ten were added. These gangs will alternate weekly until the end of April.

A communication was received at the meeting from the Federal member, stating that he had been unable to secure any grant for the council to compensate for the Government land in the municipality. He intimated, however, that he had been successful in obtaining $16,000 to be expended for improving the Esquimalt Drydock and the roads within it. The work would employ one foreman and about forty men, the letter stated, and would continue until the end of the month, at which time the Federal relief programme ends.

MEN NOW WORKING

Reeve Albert Heald told members of the council that since this communication had been received he had conferred with J. P. Forde, Federal engineer, who had told him that the money for the work had been appropriated and everything was set to proceed. The council had permission to choose the men who would do the work, it was learned.

Reeve Heald reported that he had immediately ordered thirty men to work on Saturday morning. On Monday he had been told ten more men could be used, and these, like the first forty, had been selected from the relief list. The action of the reeve in so designating the work was endorsed on motion of the council.

On further perusal of Mr. Dickie's letter, the council learend that $10,000 would be spent on the drydock itself and $6,000 on the roads.

UNABLE TO SPEND MONEY

During the time allotted, Reeve Heald stated, the council would only be able to spend about 25 per cent of this appropriation, and suggested that a telegram be immediately forwarded to Ottawa requesting an extension of time to spend the full amount of money allowed for the work. It would be impossible to employ more than forty men at a time, as that was all that the job required, he said.

The suggestion was unanimously endorsed and the request so ordered.

The reeve asserted there were too many unemployed men in Esquimalt to allow one gang to do the whole work, and further suggested that gangs be alternated until the end of the month. This was also approved.

In this latter respect, the reeve said: "We may not be able to employ all Esquimalt's unemployed for a week, but we will do the best we can and pick out the most deserving cases in fairness to all concerned."

EXPRESS THANKS

Mr. Dickie's letter was received and filed, and the clerk instructed to write and thank him for successfully securing a grant for relief work in the municipality.

"It is apparent that we will get little more for the Dominion-owned property in Esquimalt," the reeve said, "but what we have got is an indication that our constant agitation has been of some benefit."

Some time ago Councillor George Brooker drew up a lengthy petition to be presented to the Federal authorities, explaining the extenuating circumstances under which the council was operating with the non-revenue-producing Federal land in the municipality, and while this present grant is not directly attributed to this, it was the petition that Reeve Heald referred to as being part of "the constant agitation."

Committee to Inquire Into Pension List

PAYMENT of mothers' pensions in 169 cases as reported to the city by the Provincial Government will be investigated by the medical health officer, the city comptroller and the head of the relief department, it was decided at last night's meeting of the City Council.

This action was taken on the recommendation of the finance committee. It was pointed out by Mayor David Leeming that every case which was struck from the list would mean an annual saving of approximately $290 to the city.

POLICE USE BATONS IN NEW ZEALAND

DUNEDIN, New Zealand, April 11 (CP).—Several hundred unemployed demonstrators, who attempted today to rush the Hospital Board's offices here, were dispersed by police in a baton charge, in which several of the demonstrators were injured. The crowd marched in a body to the hospital offices, where relief is administered. They were met by a strong cordon of police, who drew their batons and scattered the demonstrators.

IS BADLY HURT IN FALL OF FIVE FEET

VANCOUVER, April 11.—Bobby McCrossan, eight-year-old son of George E. McCrossan, K.C., Angus Drive, is in General Hospital recovering from effects of a fall Friday night while at play. He is suffering from a broken thigh, broken jaw and severe lacerations to his mouth, all sustained in a fall of five feet.

Fires caused nearly $200,000 damage in Edinburgh, Scotland, last year.

VOTERS' LISTS TO BE RENEWED

B.C. Legislature Makes Good Progress on Many Bills at Evening Session

Provincial voters' lists in Victoria and Vancouver may have to be renewed, Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe told the Legislature last evening, when amendments to the Provincial Elections Act were completed in committee and the House made good progress on a number of bills in committee stage.

Changes in the Special Revenue Tax Act, the Mothers' Pension Act and the Medical Act, as already outlined, were given third readings and enacted. Proposed treasury control regulations were read a second time. The new half-cent tax on fuel oil was also given second reading.

Giving further consideration to redistribution, the House voted to call the new combined constituency of Nelson and Creston "Nelson-Creston," and "Columbia - Revelstoke" was set as the name of the new electoral area in the latter ridings.

Hon. J. W. Jones explained that the only operation of the special revenue tax this year will be in respect to wage deductions which should have been made last year.

Tom Uphill (Labor, Fernie) was assured, during discussion of the Game Act, that miners and others needing to fish for food would not be charged the $1 angling licence, but would be given permits by the game commissioner.

Dr. Plaskett Will Receive Bruce Medal

Dr. J. S. Plaskett, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Victoria, is leaving next Sunday for San Francisco, where, at a special meeting of the Astronomical Society of the Pacific, he will receive the Bruce Medal awarded him some months ago for his contribution to astronomical science.

The meetings of this organization take place at the Pacific Gas & Electric Company's auditorium, Market Street, San Francisco, and comprize one of the representative scientific groups of the continent, the president being Dr. W. W. Campbell, formerly president of the University of California. Unfortunately, Dr. Campbell will be unable to preside on this occasion as he is going to Washington to preside at the sessions of the National Academy of Science, which is holding its annual meeting about the same time.

In connection with the occasion Dr. Plaskett will give a popular lecture on "The Structure and Rotation of the Galaxy," and has also accepted an invitation to address the students at Mills College while he is in San Francisco.

Factory Sirens To Warn Voters Of Polling Day

THE civic affairs committee of the Victoria Gyro Club has arranged with the various mills and factories to sound their whistles at 11 a.m., Thursday, to remind all property holders to go to the polls and vote on the $500,000 Loan By-Law.

The Gyro Club is supporting the by-law and urges every property holder to do the same in order to keep the tax levy down.

Voting will take place at the Public Market Building, between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. M. F. Hunter is the returning officer.

NEW PARK IS POSSIBILITY

Esquimalt Council Will Make Effort to Exchange Sites in Municipality

The possibility of a new park being built in Esquimalt, at the corner of Lyall and Fraser Streets, loomed at a meeting of the Municipal Council last night. A motion was passed to have negotiations proceed with the trustees of Bullen's Park, on Esquimalt Road, in an effort to have them give the council full control of the land occupied by this park at present, if preparations are made to have the new park built.

Councillor A. T. Farley, chairman of the parks committee, reported that he had interviewed the trustees of the park in an effort to secure control of the land for the municipality in order that it might be placed on a taxpaying basis. They had asserted, he said, that the original agreement to have any money from the sale of the land placed in a trust fund could not be altered unless the council had a proposed site for a new park.

The new site is about four acres in area and would be ideal for a playing ground, it was learned. It was felt that the best thing for the council to do would be to approach the trustees with the new proposal. Trustee Farley was appointed to supplement any requests of the council made by mail.

AUSTRALIA TAKES DRASTIC ACTION

Proclamation Attaches New South Wales' Revenue From Various Sporting Sources

SYDNEY, Australia, April 11 (CP).—Issuance of a proclamation attaching the State of New South Wales' revenue from the tax on betting, tax on race track admittances, totalisators' receipts and entertainment tax, was the reply of the Commonwealth Government today to the action of Premier J. T. Lang in padlocking the state tax collection offices.

The Commonwealth originally specified income tax payments as payable to the Commonwealth instead of to the state, on account of the amounts the Commonwealth has disbursed overseas through the failure of the state to meet debt payments on February 1 to April 1.

The Government has also notified the Australian trading banks it requires them to hand over New South Wales state funds now in their possession, in accordance with the sequestration proclamation, all this action being authorized by the Financial Agreement Enforcement Bill, the validity of which was upheld in the Australian High Court last week. At the time of passage of the bill, however, Premier Lang made considerable withdrawals of state funds from the trading banks.

UPROAR ARISES IN REGINA HOUSE

Argument on Redistribution Bill Leads to Lively Scenes Among Saskatchewan Members

REGINA, Sask., April 11.—Saskatchewan's Legislature broke up in an uproar late tonight as cries of "Raw Toryism" and "Mussolini" climaxed a bitter debate on redistribution.

From early morning the Members of the Legislature had been arguing the new bill, and shortly before 11 o'clock the House had before it one motion and three amendments. James G. Gardiner, leader of the Opposition, was on his feet at 11 o'clock. Hon. A. C. Stewart, Minister of Highways, who is sponsoring the new bill, moved that the chairman report progress.

No motion could be made while he was speaking, said Mr. Gardiner. This would mean bringing the Speaker back to the chair, which was entirely against the rules of the House. The chairman reported progress, and Mr. Speaker returned to the chair, despite protests from the Liberal benches. As the House adjourned there were cries of "pretty raw," "that's real Toryism," "Mussolini!" as the Liberal members voiced their disapproval of the situation.

Prospects of prorogation on Tuesday faded as the debate on the Redistribution Bill lengthened.

Father and Girl Are Struck Down

Sidney Berrill, of 2548 Quadra Street, while crossing Quadra Street at the Hillside Avenue intersection last night, was struck down by an automobile driven by Henry Reid, 921½ Fort Street. Mr. Berrill was carrying his three-year-old girl, Viola, in his arms at the time. He suffered a bruised leg and the child sustained a bump on the head. Both were able to go home after receiving first aid.

Landlady—So Mr. Newboard has found something fresh to complain about this morning?

Maid—No, mum, it's the eggs.

DIES SUDDENLY IN VANCOUVER

C. H. Willis, Former Victoria Businessman, Passed Away at Home on Sunday

The announcement of the sudden death in Vancouver on Sunday evening of Carleton Howell Willis, formerly of Victoria, but of late a resident of Vancouver, came as a shock to his many friends in Victoria. Mr. Willis was suddenly stricken at his home at Tudor Manor, Beach Avenue, and before medical aid could be obtained had passed away. The deceased was forty-two years of age.

Mr. Willis was well known among the business men of this city, where for a number of years he was identified with its commercial life. He joined the firm of Jameson & Rolfe, which had been established since 1914. He was an active member of the Pacific Club during his residence in Victoria.

The deceased had been connected with the automobile business in British Columbia since 1916. He was born at Winchester, Kentucky, on March 13, 1890, and came to Victoria in 1910. He went in 1923 to Vancouver, where he entered into partnership with George Kingsley, and was president of the Willis-Kingsley Motors, Ltd., at the time of his death.

Mr. Willis was past president of the Vancouver Motor Dealers' Association, and was an active member of the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club, Terminal City Club and the Shaughnessy Golf Club. He is survived by his wife, a daughter of the late F. W. Vincent, of Erie Street, Victoria; one sister and a brother.

Saanich Police Investigate Brentwood Robbery—Safe Tampered With

The West Saanich Mercantile Company's store at Brentwood was robbed over the week-end, Chief of Saanich Police Allan Rankin reported yesterday.

Discovery was made when Albert Spencer temporary manager, opened the store for business at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. He first missed a crate of eggs.

This led him to make a check of the rest of the supplies. His investigation revealed that pastry flour, jams, sugar, butter, lard, prunes, peas, canned milk, bacon, one ham and a leg of mutton were missing. The safe also had been tampered with.

There was nothing to indicate how entrance was gained. No doors or windows were forced, so that entry must have been gained by using a pass key, it is believed.

Chief Rankin and Constable Eric Elwell are working on the case.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Sir,—It seems, by the opinion of quite a few, that our Public Library is a thorn in this beautiful city of ours. Mr. Carnegie saddled Victoria with a gift that is costing the city $37,000 per year to maintain, for the sole purpose of perpetuating this great man's name. True, it gives employment to quite a few of our highly-educated ladies. Apart from the librarian, why is this high education necessary?

If the comparison is permissable, a grocer's assistant is about on the level of the library assistant. One asks the grocer for, say a pound of butter, and get's it promptly delivered.

One generally goes to the library knowing what books they need (at least I hope so, otherwise they are liable to have some book recommended to them for which they have no use) and the book is either found for them, or they find it themselves. Any schoolboy or girl with average intelligence could do this after, say six months in the library.

It has been said that a highly-educated person without intelligence is a fool in the proper sense of the word, because, since he has the ability to digest this high education, he must have intelligence to know how to use it.

I am related to a man who could not write his own name, yet he made a fortune by his intelligence and, strange to say, by conducting the business of a very highly-educated gentleman who had got into financial difficulties.

Recently I had the impudence to ask for a paper to be laid before the committee of our Public Library for its approval. The person to whom I gave the particulars turned my approaches down in such a decided manner that it savored of prejudice. It could hardly be considered ignorance, unless this highly-educated assistant was lacking in intelligence.

The point I am trying to bring out is, why all this vast sum of $37,000 should be spent on handing out books to the public, when perhaps by using intelligence and doing without the high education, it might be reduced considerably.

Why not use economy at the Public Library during these times of depression? GEORGE COOPER.

$3 worth for $1 is $2 saved by using Pepsodent Antiseptic!

PEPSODENT ANTISEPTIC is 3 times as powerful as other leading mouth washes. Hence, it goes 3 times as far. That's economy for you! Why waste money on antiseptics that must be used full strength to be effective?

PLAIN, simple arithmetic is causing millions to change to Pepsodent Antiseptic. Because Pepsodent Antiseptic is three times as powerful as other leading mouth washes . . . hence it goes three times as far—gives you three times more for your money and gives extra protection against colds, irritated throats. For your protection against germs associated with common ills remember there are really only two leading kinds of mouth washes. On the one hand you have the mouth wash that must be used full strength to be effective. On the other hand you have Pepsodent Antiseptic, utterly safe even if used full strength, yet powerful enough to be diluted with two parts of water and still kill germs within 10 seconds. It is bad enough to have germs in your mouth before you gargle . . . it's worse to have germs after you gargle . . . so choose the antiseptic that kills the germs even when diluted. Insist on Pepsodent Antiseptic—and be sure! Be safe—and save money! Now is a good time to start.

BAD BREATH
(Halitosis)

The amazing results of Pepsodent Antiseptic in fighting sore throat colds, proves its effectiveness in checking Bad Breath (Halitosis). HUNT MURDERER OF HOMESTEADER

Robbery Thought Motive for Slaying in Saskatchewan—No Arrests Made as Yet

LINTLAW, Sask., April 11.—A police hunt is on for the murderer of Joseph Shewchuck, twenty-five-year-old homesteader of the Lintlaw district, whose body, the forehead crushed in, was found huddled in a corner of the bedroom of his home, ten miles southwest of here.

An inquest into the circumstances surrounding the man's death was opened under Dr. J. P. Pare, coroner, tonight and adjourned immediately for a two-week interval to allow police to investigate.

At a late hour tonight, however, no arrests had been made and police had found no money, which was said to have been hidden in Shewchuck's home and which was alleged to have been a motive for the murder.

Shewchuck's body was found by a neighbor, Steve Sawka, Sunday morning, while making a friendly call. Sawka knocked at the door and, on receiving no answer, entered the house, where he found evidence of a struggle in the room.

He notified Dr. Pare, of Lintlaw, and he, with Corporal Hadden, of the Kelvington detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, investigated.

Shewchuck, a quiet young man, was well liked by his neighbors and was not known to have any enemies in the district.

QUESTIONS TAX ON PHONE CALLS

Manitoba Minister Doubts Federal Right to Levy Against Provincial System

WINNIPEG, April 11 (CP).—Questioning the power of the Dominion Government to tax the Manitoba telephone system, owned and operated by the province, not for revenue, and from which nothing is paid to the provincial treasury for revenue purposes, W. J. Major, K.C., Attorney-General and Minister of Telephones for Manitoba, today wired Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, protesting proposals of the Federal Government to tax long-distance telephone messages.

With 60 per cent of long-distance revenue derived from calls within the boundaries, Mr. Major finds it difficult to conceive of the Dominion coming in and taxing users of the provincially-owned system for Dominion revenue purposes when Manitoba does not get a dollar profit from its operation.

MEANS HEAVY INCREASE

The average cost of long distance messages is 42 cents, and the tax proposed by the Dominion would mean an average increase of 12 per cent. The short calls are the popular long distance calls, being frequently used in rural districts, and the proposed increase would fall directly on the farmers and residents of small towns, through whose inability to pay, Mr. Major says, the provincial telephone system has already lost a large number of telephones. The tax would aggravate conditions and be responsible for further losses, the Attorney-General declares.

Mr. Major has also wired W. R. Clubb, Minister of Public Works for Manitoba, who is in Ottawa, asking him to supplement the protest wired to Mr. Rhodes by making representations in person to the Dominion authorities.

VANCOUVER, April 11.—Despite protest of the General Contractors' Association, the City Council this afternoon adopted a committee's recommendation that construction of eighteen and a half miles of concrete sidewalk be performed by the city's day labor crews.

EDMONTON MINERS IN FAVOR OF STRIKE

EDMONTON, April 11. — Overwhelming support for a strike in case wage reductions are put into effect was expressed at a meeting of miners of the Edmonton district here Sunday.

There were ninety-six votes cast, and with the exception of a spoiled ballot, all were in favor of a strike, according to G. McLeod, district secretary of the Workers' Unity League, under whose auspices the vote was taken.

The strike vote affects only one mine here. There are four or five hundred miners in other mines in this district, but these mines are not connected with the Workers' Unity League, under whose auspices the vote was taken. It is not anticipated that there will be any wage troubles in these mines.

ADDED SUPPORT FOR ROOSEVELT

Democratic Candidate for Presidential Nomination Gains Support

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Keeping pace with the runaway race for delegates made four years ago by Alfred E. Smith, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt stands to pick up fifty-four more for the Democratic presidential nomination this week in Nebraska and Michigan.

Kentucky's twenty-six were definitely assured for him at Tuesday's state convention by action yesterday of county conventions.

Smith, a receptive candidate again this year, at this time in 1928 had 241 instructed, pledged and claimed delegates to the Houston convention. His nearest rival then was former Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, who had his state's thirty-six.

Roosevelt's instructed, pledged and claimed delegate strength today was 200, counting Kentucky's delegates in his column.

REED CLOSEST RIVAL

Oddly enough, Roosevelt's closest rival now is Reed, of Missouri, with his state's thirty-six.

Governor "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, of Oklahoma, is third with twenty-three, and Smith has the only other pledged delegate, 104 being in doubt.

The Democrats will choose 134 delegates this week to boost the total to 472. There will be 1,154 votes in the national convention, with 700, or two-thirds, required to nominate.

NOMINATION CONCEDED

The Republicans choose 110 delegates this week to bring their total to 402. Of the 292 named to date President Hoover has 270 pledged and claimed for him, and his renomination is conceded generally. Of the remaining twenty-two Senator Norris, of Nebraska, has eleven from Wisconsin pledged to him, and a similar number from New Mexico and North Dakota are in doubt.

Of the 110 to be named this week, Illinois names sixty-one, Nebraska seventeen, Florida sixteen, North Carolina seven, and Delaware nine.

Pirates Make Bold Raids in China

SHANGHAI, April 11 (AP).—An unprecedented wave of piracy west of Shanghai, toward Lake Taihu, has resulted in a paralysis of commerce in that area, Chinese commercial circles here said today.

In a report revealing an alleged breakdown of all civil authority in the hinterland, extending to within a few miles of the Shanghai International Settlement, local merchants said the pirates had made a series of astoundingly daring raids in recent days, taking goods valued at $250,00 from cargoes on the way to Shanghai and kidnapping forty adults and children for ransom.

WOULD ABOLISH CERTAIN WEAPONS

Proposal Made at Geneva to Do Away With Aggressive Land Weapons

GENEVA, April 11 (AP).—The United States delegation to the Disarmament Conference today proposed the abolition of aggressive weapons of land warfare—tanks, mobile heavy artillery and gases—and received the cordial support of Great Britain.

Ambassador Hugh Gibson, who presented the United States recommendations, pointed out that if adopted they would do much to root out fears for national security, and that they would permit reductions in the cost of arms at a time of "insistent demand for economy through the world."

Approval for the suggestions, for the most part guarded, came from the representatives of Germany, France and Italy, and the programme was referred to a conference committee for decision after it has been discussed with kindred proposals from other nations.

Mr. Gibson made it clear his suggestions were inadequate in themselves and that his Government was prepared later for the abolition of bombing planes.

SAYS SITE FOR HYDRO SUITABLE

Manitoba Waterway Could Supply 400,000 Horsepower if Harnessed

WINNIPEG, April 11 (CP).—Diversion of the course of the Saskatchewan River to provide a 400,000-horsepower hydro development in Northern Manitoba now appears more feasible than ever, Hon. D. G. McKenzie, Minister of Mines and Natural Resources, told the Manitoba Legislature tonight. Three survey parties were at work in the area during the Summer, he said, and their reports were encouraging.

Financial conditions did not permit of further work this year, but the minister hoped it would be resumed shortly. The project involves the diversion of the flow of the river southward through Lake Manitoba and thence to Lake Winnipeg, and the creation of a number of new lakes which it is hoped will serve as reservoirs of moisture.

MOST SUITABLE SITE

At the present stage of the investigation, Mr. McKenzie said, the most suitable site for the power development appears to be on the Dauphin River, or rather on a canal which would take the water by a more direct route than the present course of the river, and empty into Lake Winnipeg at Sturgeon Bay. A number of regulating dams to control the levels of different lakes would be required.

The minister discussed the subject when estimates for his department were before the House. John T. Haig, Conservative, Winnipeg, said he hoped the proposition would be allowed to "die a natural death," a statement Mr. McKenzie was unable to agree with.

VIOLIN PUPILS CHARM AUDIENCE

Students of Miss Irene Bick Hold Recital at Crystal Garden—High Standard of Work Noted

Some singularly interesting work by student violinists was heard at the recital by pupils of Miss Irene Bick, given at the Crystal Garden Theatre last evening for an appreciative audience.

In a programme which included ensemble and solo numbers by Miss Bick's own students, it became obvious that she exacts a very high standard of work in her studio. Without exception the playing showed sound elementary work. The degree to which this can be carried where the pupil has exceptional native receptiveness, was happily demonstrated in the case of Harry Brawn, a brilliant young virtuoso whose work proved quite the sensation of the evening. His technique has both facility and beauty, and his performance of Carl Bohm's "Moto Perpetuo" held much promise for his musical future.

STRINGED ENSEMBLE

The programme opened with a number by the stringed ensemble. Conducted by Miss Bick, this group, comprising seventeen violins, two violas, three 'cellos, one double bass, five other orchestral instruments and a piano, had two appearances during the evening, their numbers including Brahms' "Famous Waltz" and two smaller Schumann numbers, "Little Romance" and "Soldiers' March." All were creditable performances, employing the entire class from very young children to adult musicians. The ensemble was admirably held together, and tempo, phrasing and general outline were good.

The quintette and quartette numbers also were greatly enjoyed. The quintette, comprising Harry Brawn and Dudley Crawford as violins, Elizabeth Bashford with viola, Reginald Cooper with 'cello, and Violet Paget Mellor at the piano, played a Elvey Gavotte with spirited delicacy; and the quartette, comprising Miss Bick, Mrs. T. R. Wheaton (violins), Harry Brawn (viola), and Reginald Cooper ('cello), showed equal nicety and harmony in Mozart's "Minuet" and Dittersdorf's "Andante."

OTHER NUMBERS

The other numbers on the programme, each showing many interesting features, were Dudley Crawford's playing of Reger's "Lullaby"; violin duet, Dudley and Jack Crawford, Arnold's "King Cole March"; Frank Chamberlain, "Pixies' Ballet"; Dyfon's "Intermezzo," Geraldine Paget Mellor, accompanied by Violet Paget Mellor; Harvey Ozard, "March of the Pirates"; duet, Aileen Graham and Harvey Ozard, Sanders' "Springtime"; Aileen Graham, "Hobgoblin Dance" (Eberhardt); Elizabeth Bashford, "Indian Lament" (Dvorak-Kreisler).

The contributions of the assisting artists added much to the already interesting programme: Miriam Schwabe and Ian Gibson showed outstanding juvenile talent in their dancing numbers, the first a duet with castanets called "El Monica," the second a very nimble tap dance; "Carisima" gave a colorful demonstration of the difficult Fandanguillo el Antequerano, one of the most exacting in respect of tempo among the Andalusian dances, and with both castanet and piano accompaniment; and Violet Paget Mellor's playing of Handel's "Harmonious Blacksmith," revealed pianism of exceptional character.

Miss Eileen Dumbleton proved a very sympathetic and artistic accompanist.

ISLAND BEAUTY SPOT IS THEME

C. L. Harrison Tells First United Young People of Forbidden Plateau

A well illustrated address on the "Forbidden Plateau," was given by C. L. Harrison to members of the First United Young People's Society and their friends, at a meeting in the schoolroom last night. The address proved most interesting and fascinating, and was well received by the audience.

During the showing of his excellent slides, Mr. Harrison expressed the urgent need for the conservation of Vancouver Island forests, stating that the cutting down of timber was destroying the beauty spots, and resulting in a decrease in tourist trade. A group of members from the First Baptist Church Y.P.S. attended the lecture as guests.

Miss Dorothy Morton, assisted by Miss Grace West and Jack Smith, conducted the worship service in a most impressive manner.

MUSICAL NUMBERS

A delightful programme of piano selections and vocal solos was presented by Miss Jones and Miss M. Discombe.

Rev. Bruce Gray announced that the young people would provide an evening's entertainment for inmates of the Aged Men's Home next Monday, and the following week a question box would be conducted by Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson on social, personal and religious matters. Young people are requested to send their questions to the First United Society.

Gordon Robson invited applications for the Young People's Tennis Club of the church.

Refreshments were served by the social committee under the convenership of Miss Annie Gough.

Spring Fashions Seen at Embassy Reception

Patou and Chanel Have Distinctive Styles for Spring Season—Shiny Hats, Gay Scarves and White Gloves Worn

The British Ambassador gave an afternoon party for French guests recently, says an article in The London Times. The reception-rooms at the Embassy were full, and among many well-dressed women a few wore new Spring fashions. Black was usual, but there were a few bright colors, a lot of brown, some navy blue, and some green. Shiny straw hats were worn, sailors' turbans, and berets. White gloves are in fashion. Muffs were carried.

Fashion is providing new clothes for warm Spring weather on the Riviera. Jean Patou has made a special collection of clothes for the South which include some very trim white woolen frocks to be worn with short, colored cardigans, some with sleeves, some without. Royal blue, scarlet and navy blue cardigans are put with white dresses, which have a touch of the cardigan color in the buckle at the waist. A white dress with a navy blue cardigan is worn with a blue belt, which has a buckle in red, blue and white, a scarf of white, red and blue, and a beret to match. Gay handkerchief squares are tied about the shoulders to be knotted on one arm; one of them, in red and blue, has an impression in yellow at one point of the lion and the unicorn as shown in the British arms. The skirts of the white dresses are slim and not pleated. There is a fold-over seam down the back and some play about the knees in front. The waistline below the belt has an envelope flap stitched flat to one side, which cuts the heavy line of the figure.

NEW ENSEMBLES

Simple ensembles of coat and dress are made in printed silks and woolen crepes, in quiet colors and small designs. With a figured dress is worn a long plain coat lined with the dress material. The dresses have a claim to newness in style by being supremely simple in cut, no frills, no flounces, just a skirt cut to flow a little from the knees. The bodices are drawn to the waist by a soft belt of kid in the plain dark color of the coat, and the open neckline has a slender scarf drapery in the dress material. The sleeves are short.

A hat made of the dress material may be added, shaped like a small cloche turned up at the back and with a fitting crown. Cream dresses with a pattern in color and the coat in the color of the pattern is the rule observed: cream crepe printed with brown has a brown brown coat, a cream silk printed blue has a blue coat.

CHANEL DESIGNS

The Chanel collection is very large. There are hundreds of dresses, all of which have character and style. Intensely modern and cosmopolitan in her outlook, Gabrielle Chanel makes for the world, not for any particular country. English, American, French—Chanel designs for them all, and has an uncanny knowledge of what each different nationality likes to wear. You can pick out from her collection dresses which fit comfortably into any simple English country home, into a stately court and into the vivid unreality of Hollywood. Since she has now decided to work in England with English workers it will be easy to see what she will make for English women.

In Paris her collection of dresses, made largely from materials of her own design, includes skirts which are longer than those she showed last season. She has recognized that a skirt to be graceful must come below the calf or be above the middle of it. Her town clothes show a skirt nearly to the ankle, slim to below the knees, where there is some play to the edge of the hem. Sport skirts are shorter. Striped woolen materials in Bulgarian colors are used horizontally for blouses to be worn with tweeds and woolens. Coat-frocks are very well cut with shoulder capes, scarf draperies, side fastenings to moulded bodices, which define the natural waistline.

Knox Y.P.S.

The Knox Presbyterian Young People's Society last evening held its usual weekly meeting in the church at the corner of Stanley and Gladstone Avenues. After the devotional service the roll was called, with twenty-five members present.

The business meeting opened with a very interesting talk by Mr. Hunter on "Life's Voyage." Plans were made to hold a Leap Year party at the home of the Misses Bravender, on Stanley Avenue, on Wednesday evening next. Refreshments were served. Play practice was held after the meeting.

GREATER convenience, greater efficiency, richer beauty. The 1932 Kelvinators represent the accumulated experience of a score of specialists over a period of 18 years.

Lord Kelvin, by his far-reaching experiments, laid down the principles on which all electric refrigeration is based. Then Kelvinator, by specializing in this line alone, brought the domestic electric refrigerator to its present state of reliability, economy and convenience. Kelvinator was first in the field. Every worthwhile invention in electric refrigeration for the home has been contributed by Kelvinator. There is no substitute for experience.

Each of Kelvinator's 20 points of preference considered individually would give you a definite reason for choosing a Kelvinator. For instance, 4-way cold—four separate degrees of cold, all automatically maintained (1) steady cold for freezing ice at Kelvinator's fast speed; (2) super-fast freezing of ice and desserts; (3) a special cold storage compartment with below-freezing cold; (4) controlled cold, between 40 and 50 degrees, in the Deluxe food compartments. Here indeed are features that prove Kelvinator's supremacy.

EGYPT'S BEAUTY THEME OF TALK

Miss Athelstane Clark Addresses Members of I.O.D.E. on Subject of "Modern Egypt"

Miss Athelstane Clark, a visitor in the city, who has made a study of countries of the Far East, addressed a gathering at the I.O.D.E. headquarters yesterday afternoon, taking as her subject, "Modern Egypt." Miss Clark explained the term "modern" was relative, for the land of the Pharoahs had a history which rivaled that of any other country with regard to age, and she traced its development from earliest times down to the present day.

Much that is known of the country is due to the untiring research of historians and scientists, who, through years of continuous study, have been able to piece together the fragments which, in many cases, have lain buried in the sands of the interminable desert.

Cairo had seen many changes in recent years, Miss Clark explained, telling of the splendid work being done in the hospital there, which treats 20,000 in-patients and half a million out-patients annually. One thousand students pass through the medical school each year. The engineering achievements in the Sudan were also emphasized by the speaker, the school system, military training and the general life of the country all forming subject heads of the address.

A beautiful description of the Valley of the Nile, of the exquisite wild flowers, the bird life, the desert, the tombs and the mosques were given in a vivid series of word pictures, and Miss Clark was accorded a most sincere vote of thanks by Mrs. J. Hebden Gillespie at the conclusion of her address.

Efficiency Should Be Only Standard of Job Holders

RICHMOND, Va., April 11 (AP). —If business is to remain efficient and sound economically, it must be completely "unsexed," says Mrs. Geline McDonald Bowman, of Richmond, president U.S.S. Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Bowman, who is seeking to learn how widespread is the movement to drop women, both married and single, from payrolls, has requested reports from forty-six State Federations.

She said that in times of emergency jobs should be given to those in urgent need of work, but announced her organization is strongly opposed to discrimination against women. If women are to be barred from jobs because they have other means of support, said Mrs. Bowman, wealthy bachelors or married men whose wives have independent incomes should be treated in the same way.

"Efficiency, not sex, should be the sole test of a job holder," she declared.

Quiet Wedding Takes Place at Nanaimo

NANAIMO, April 11. — In the Haliburton Street United Church parsonage on Saturday evening, a quiet but pretty wedding took place, when Clara Marie, the only daughter of Mrs. Emma Stolsenberg, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Griffitha Paul, the youngest son of Mr. Allan Paul, Brechin. To the strains of wedding music played by Mrs. J. Cottle, the bride entered the parsonage and was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Jack Cottle, and looked charming in a fawn tailored suit, with hat, gloves and shoes to match. Her bouquet was of carnations and ferns. Her cousin, Miss Winnie Cottle, who was attired in a fawn suit and carried a bouquet of lilies and ferns, was her bridesmaid. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. John Paul.

After the ceremony they repaired to the home of the bride's mother, where the bride cut a three-tier wedding cake. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a silver bracelet, and to the best man a smoking set, and to the pianist a gold brooch.

The couple left on the late boat for their honeymoon, which will be spent in the Sound cities. On their return they will take up their residence at 724 Nicol Street.

Engagements

ASHWORTH—McMILLAN

Mr. and Mrs. A. Proberts, of Grassy Lake, Alberta, announce the engagement of their eldest granddaughter, Doris Beatrice McMillan, to Mr. Harry Gilbert Ashworth, eldest son of Mrs. L. Ashworth, of Victoria. The wedding will take place on Saturday, April 16, at 7:30 p.m., in the Metropolitan Church.

What One Girl Wore

By BETTY BROWNLEE

What about those of us who sometimes find it necessary to leave home early in the morning, not to return until sundown, and who find that during the intervening hours we must be appropriately clad for several rather important engagements? What to do—what to do—when one finds it entirely impossible to run home and change.

Of course, the answer is simple. In planning such a wardrobe one must include several "all-day" frocks that will take one comfortably through the morning hours and keep one feeling well dressed and smart right up to sunset.

The model illustrated today is admirable for this purpose. It is fashioned of beige Canton crepe and reveals a soft draping neckline, and new built-up waistline and full sleeves. The hip is yoked and the skirt slightly flared. The only color contrast is introduced in the trimming, consisting of two large flowers—one red, the other beige.

Robber Makes a Shrewd Guess

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Some things you do not need to see;
A guess may just as useful be.
—Robber the Rat.

"Two of them! Two Owls in this barn!" exclaimed Robber the Rat under his breath. "No wonder the members of my tribe have been disappearing. One would be bad enough, but two is twice as bad. I didn't dream that there were two. I wonder how it happens that there are two."

Robber kept perfectly still in his hiding place and waited and watched. Presently the moonlight began to steal through the gable window and shone full on the open side of that great box up on the rafters. He could see clearly now the form which had at first been so shadowy on the edge of that box. It leaned forward and for the first time he saw the strangest face he had ever seen. He knew that it was the face of an Owl, but what a face! It seemed to be heart-shaped, made of of two great feathered discs in which were set two round staring eyes above a hooked bill partly hidden in feathers. He felt a cold shiver run all over him. For a moment he actually held his breath.

Then that big form leaned forward and the big head began to bob and away from side to side in the funniest way. There was a faint noise at the window and in came another great bird with just as strange a face and alighted on the edge of that box. In his bill was a mouse which he at once passed to the other, who disappeared with it in the great box which was like a small room. At once there were queer sounds from in there, sounds that sent more shivers over Robber. He didn't have to see into that dark box to know what they meant. They could mean but one thing. He could guess what that was.

"Babies! A nest of young Owls!" he exclaimed under his breath. Yes, indeed, it was very much under his breath. Not for the world would he have made the faintest sound. He knew how wonderful are the ears of all Owls and there only a little away from him were two pairs capable of hearing the faintest sound, the scratch of a claw on wood or the rustle of a bit of hay carelessly moved. So it was that Robber saw for the first time Monkey-face and Mrs. Monkey-face, the Barn Owls.

Monkey-face remained only a few minutes. Then he left by the gable window and once more Mrs. Monkey-face came to the edge of the box and waited. It seemed almost no time at all before Monkey-face returned and this time he carried a Shrew. As before he passed it to Mrs. Monkey-face and as before she disappeared with it and the same hungry little cries sent shivers all over Robber again.

He had seen all he wanted to [illegible]

Monkey-face once more departed and this time Mrs. Monkey-face followed him. Robber knew that this probably meant that there were several hungry babies to be fed. He didn't wait to see the parents return. This was his chance to get away from there without danger and he took advantage of it. He had seen all he wanted to see. He knew now that things were worse for the Rats and Mice in that barn or around it than he had ever dreamed.

"A family!" he muttered as he hurried home to spread the bad news. "A family of young Owls right in this very barn! Growing children require a lot of food. Those Owls will be hunting all night long and even during the day right here in the barn when it is never very light. This is bad news, bad news indeed for the Rats and the Mice. We will have to move. There is no doubt about it we will have to move, though where we will move to I don't know. It is too bad, too bad for it is so easy to steal all we want here. We don't have to work for a living at all, and working for a living is something no Robber ever wants to do."

CHAPTER XXII

St. Maire was as good as his word. Before the day was over he had seen not only Mr. Justice Margetson but the Home Secretary as well, and the results were swift and vigorous; Travers Sinclair and the Counsel for the Crown, John Hickson, had a consultation with Margetson, and on the very next evening were seated in the judge's own dining-room, with Lord St. Maire as a fourth, at Margetson's house in Chelsea. The day had been spent in unremitting effort to start the machinery that would save a man from death, and the three men had spared neither time nor skill. They had put aside the trammels of their professions and now as human beings rather than as men of law, were discussing the case that was already a cause celebre. Dinner over, Mr. Justice Margetson was speaking in a voice that betrayed deep feeling.

"I was obliged to give the death sentence," he said. "And it was an experience that was even more painful than usual. I had no choice; yet, I must confess, I do not feel satisfied. The evidence is not satisfactory. What do you think, Hickson?"

The prosecutor met his host's clear blue eyes and shook his head. He too, was anything but happy, for no man, unless he be entirely callous, can regard with equanimity the prospect of an execution—the violent ending of a human life. Even in the case of hardened criminal, it is a terrible thing when justice demands the sentence of death, and in this case it was not passed upon such a one, but upon a man he knew and liked; a man whose whole record negatived the possibility of his being that dreadful thing—a murderer.

"I do not feel satisfied, either. There's something odd, to my way of thinking, about the whole affair—but at the same time, why would he not go into the box? An innocent man would have welcomed the chance."

"Not if he were shielding someone else," St Maire put in quietly.

And Sinclair added: "It has been my opinion—no, I will say my conviction, from the first, that is what is happening. You can't shake the story of an innocent man, because he's simply relating facts. But if he has to stick to a variation—shall we say—of the truth, it's a different matter. I admit it made a bad impression on the jury and on you, Hickson, but after all, this is hardly a case where impressions should be permitted to count. A man may be indiscreet and foolish, he may even be wicked, but he is not necessarily a murderer, and it seems to me that this case is a risky one for the supreme sentence."

"I must say I feel uneasy," the judge said, "very uneasy. And although Staire may be guilty, there is the possibility that he is innocent, and we must not execute him if the slightest chance of his innocence exists. The law must prove guilt beyond all human doubt, and, in my opinion, guilt has not been so proved."

"I am speaking as a man, and in confidence to you, my three friends, and I am determined to do all in my power to obtain a reprieve."

There was a moment or two's silence. It was Sinclair who spoke at last, very slowly, fingering the stem of his wine-glass.

"I believe Staire is innocent. I, too, am going to do all in my power to prove that innocence. I ask you all to help me. Lord St. Maire"—he turned to the man on his right—"you, I know, are convinced that this man must not be hanged. You have already seen the Home Secretary?"

"Yes," St. Maire said; "and I think he is favorably disposed. More I daren't say—yet."

"I think," said Hickson from the other end of the table, "I think tomorrow morning you will find the press pretty unanimous. In my opinion, despite everything, the public will realize that this condemnation is not just. The evidence is insufficient. This execution should not take place."

"That is so," St. Maire agreed. "I will get all my friends to sign a petition—that, indeed, has already been started. Of course, the formalities, in so far as the legal matters are concerned, will be looked after by Mr. Canfield. Henry Canfield was Feodor's solicitor."

"You must remember"—Mr. Justice Margetson's quiet voice put in—"you must remember, Lord St. Maire that we are speaking now as we feel; we are not speaking as the law has at present almost—I say 'almost' advisedly—determined. This must not be a matter of sentiment. This must be a matter of stern justice. Either this man is guilty or he is not. I do not feel sure that he has committed the crime. The entire circumstances and the entire report of the case will be laid before the Home Secretary. More than that for the moment I cannot say except"—his tone changed a little—"except just this: that I myself will do all in my power to have the death sentence respited."

Margetson waa as good as his word; he went to see the Home Secretary and had a long conference with him. The petition for Feodor's reprieve assumed monster proportions, the press were practically unanimous in their opinion as to Staire's innocence. Efforts of friends, counsel, the public, were unremitting and, nine days after the trial had closed, St. Maire returned home from the Home Office with the news that the death sentence had been respited.

The silence in the drawing-room was profound as he entered. In it were four people, Lady Alice and her two daughters, but for a moment he did not see Ronald, half-hidden by the window curtain.

"What is it? Quickly!" Lady Alice said, and her brother came forward and took her hand.

"The appeal is succcesful," he said. "The death sentence has been respited, and changed to imprisonment for life."

There was a moment's complete silence. Toni closed her eyes, clenching her hands on the arm of her chair. Then, suddenly from her seat by the fire Greta sprang up, her eyes wild and her face white.

"Imprisonment for life!" she cried. "Imprisonment for life! Oh! Feodor! Feodor! No! No! Oh, my God!" and tumpled down in an unconscious heap on the hearthrug.

That evening was spent very quietly, and Toni felt that it would never come to an end. Greta had retired to her room. Ronnie looked anxious and miserable, unable to forget the fate of his friend, but never dreaming in his wildest moments of conjecture of connecting Greta's collapse with Feodor's sentence, except as the result of shock and sympathy.

When about ten o'clock he said he would go up to his room and sit with Greta, Lady Alice signed to Toni to stay behind.

"James," said Toni's mother, "you have been most kind in having us here all this trying time. Toni and I are more than grateful; but, my dear, we've trespassed enough, and I think that the sooner we get home now the better. What do you think, Toni?"

Toni idly plaiting the silk fringe of her frock, looked up. "Yes, I suppose you are right, mother," she said. "There's no reason to remain here—now."

"None; the quicker we get back to Paris and home the better. There will be things for you to do there, Toni, dear, and you are wise enough to know that it is the worst thing in the world for you to sit here and just think. You cannot reach Feodor just now. Your uncle will do all he can. Do you agree, Toni? Can you make yourself go back to Paris and try to pick up your old life?"

Her heart ached even as she spoke in such a Sparton manner. She knew her daughter; she knew that the worst thing for Toni in a moment like this would be pity, or even a show of too much sympathy. Toni wanted to keep her upper lip stiff, and Lady Alice admired the spirit and encouraged it.

St. Maire looked for a moment from one to the other, then, he, too, nodded.

"I quite agree with you, Alice," he said, "about getting away from London. Your friends and your interests are all in France; but, my dear, I do think you are making a mistake in one thing. I think you should take Toni right away for a bit. You should take her away for a month or two to some change of scene; get her out of Paris. It will remind her too much of all that has happened. What do you say, Toni? Which would you rather do? After all, my dear, we both agree—your mother and I—that it rests with you."

Toni was silent for a minute, then she looked at her uncle.

"I don't know, Uncle James," she said slowly, I don't want to be a nuisance. I realize that you are all being just as kind as you possibly can, but I feel stupid somehow. I can't even really think. I don't know what I want, but I suppose that feeling will pass. I know I can't just sit down and wait and do nothing. I know it does no good either to myself or to Feodor, but I wish there wasn't any necessity to decide." A sudden quiver of emotion ran through her voice at the last word, a sudden break. "It's all so useless—" she cried—"so utterly, hiddeously useless!" and then, springing from her seat, she walked across the floor and out of the room.

For a minute or two there was silence, then her uncle spoke.

"It's true enough, Alice," he said. "She's borne it marvellously. After all, it isn't only the fact that the man she loves is in prison for life. That's bad enough, but it has happened just on the eve of her marriage. It's her whole life—she was very deeply in love with him, you say?"

Lady Alice nodded, hardly able to speak.

"Very deeply in love. I knew that Toni would love greatly when her time came, but even I had no idea quite what Feodor meant to her until the beginning of this affair. I don't know what to do for the best, James. Tell me, do you really think we have any chance—Feodor will have any chance—of an appeal?"

"Frankly, I haven't the least idea, Alice," he said. "It is a most extraordinary thing. There is no independent evidence, and yet all the circumstancial evidence points to Feodor as the murderer. And nothing more can be done now, unless the real culprit comes forward."

Lady Alice covered her eyes with her hand.

"It's a terrible business," said her brother, breaking a long silence.

"Greta feels very upset about it. I never considered Greta a woman to show things deeply. It's rather curious, her horror at Feodor's sentence. It's not like her. She is—if you'll forgive me saying so—rather self-centred as a rule, and—"

They both stared, for into the room, unannounced, came St. Maire's elderly butler, his face rather anxious.

"Excuse me, m'lady, excuse me, m'lord," he said quickly, "but I wondered if you knew. Miss Toni has just gone out. She told me to call a taxi, and she has driven off by herself. I heard her—I beg pardon, my lord—I heard her say 'Brixton Prison.'"

Brother and sister looked at one another. St. Maire dismissed the man with a nod, and suddenly Lady Alice broke down and wept.

"She has gone to watch there—to stay outside—oh, my poor little Toni, my poor little daughter—it's too terrible! What can I do for her—?"

"Nothing," St. Maire said shortly. "She must face it alone—God help her—poor child."

Reviews History Of Grand Jury

NANAIMO, April 11. — At the Spring Assizes, which opened here today, Justice W. A. MacDonald called the grand jury's attention to the fact that it was the last grand jury which would sit in the province. He reviewed the history of the grand jury since it first came into being, explaining the causes for its organization, its benefits and drawbacks, and the reasons for its abolition.

The first case on the list, Rex vs. Gee Gun Lum, charged with selling opium in Duncan last September, was adjourned until tomorrow morning owing to the absence of counsel for the Federal Government. ANNUAL DINNER WELL ATTENDED

Fine Representation of Members Features Amputation Association Gathering

The annual dinner of the Victoria Branch of the Amputation Association of the Great War was held in the Empress Hotel Saturday night, when a large number of members gathered to observe the occasion, which was also the fifteenth anniversary of the Battle of Vimy Ridge. Fred R. Wells, president, presided.

The chairman gave a brief address of welcome to the members and guests and outlined the activities of the association during the past year, stating that it had been successful in what it had set out to accomplish. Particularly, he said, had it been successful in providing employment for its members. The cordial relations with other veterans' organizations was referred to by the president and enlarged upon by representatives of these other organizations who spoke during the evening.

HONOR FALLEN MEMBERS

Following a toast to "The King," the chairman proposed a toast and silent tribute to "Our Fallen Comrades," and coupled with it the name of Brigadier-General R. P. Clark, who passed away on Friday in Vancouver.

"Our Association" was proposed by Captain C. F. L. Money, secretary of the Army and Navy Veterans, Unit No. 12, responded to by Arnold Palmer, immediate past Dominion president. Mr. Palmer spoke of the value of the association to those who had suffered loss of limb and eyesight during the war, and referred to the work which it was doing for the benefit of these less fortunate men.

TOAST TO "OUR GUESTS"

Wilbur Dawson proposed the toast to "Our Guests," and Thomas Jones, president of the Army and Navy, and J. H. Frank, president of the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion, responded. A. Blaine, president of the Provincial Command, gave reminiscences of his acquaintance with various Victoria members.

Those who contributed to the entertainment were: Miss Doris Scott, Charles Hunt, W. G. Frampton, George Ingledew, Arthur Dykes, J. Dobbie and Sidney Chiverall. Prizes won by the various members in the Amputation Association Bowling League were presented by the president.

Mr. Mathews has taken a live interest in military affairs and holds the rank of captain and is adjutant of the 1st Battalion, 16th Canadian Scottish.

NEW SCHEDULE IS UNDECIDED

Reduced Water Charges to Be Considered by Council at Next Meeting

A recommendation from City Engineer F. M. Preston that the water rates be consolidated and that a new schedule of charges be brought into effect, giving irrigationists a saving of approximately $600 a year was laid on the table at last night's meeting of the City Council for further consideration.

The recommendation from the engineer followed a suggestion by the finance committee, which is supporting the engineer's proposal.

ENDORSES PROPOSAL

Endorsing the recommendation, Ald. P. R. Brown pointed out that the reduction would benefit the smaller irrigationists, who had not received so great an advantage in the past as the larger irrigationists.

Ald. W. D. Todd, however, moved that the matter be laid over until after the Loan By-Law had passed. He said that it was problematical as to what the outcome of the vote would be, and the city might need to raise more revenue from the waterworks department.

VISIT DEPARTMENT

Alderman Brown replied that if the alderman would make a visit to the waterworks department he would be given ample reason why the rate should not be increased after he had seen the large number of unpaid accounts for services which the city could not cut off, due to the dire distress of the families in arrears.

A protest from J. A. Griffiths, real estate agent, against the proposed rates will be considered at the same time.

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If April 12 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 12:35 p.m., from 5 p.m. to 6:20 p.m. and from 10:30 p.m. to 11:35 p.m. The danger periods are from 3 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. and from 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Astrological "Dos" and "Don'ts" for April 12:—Write letters of importance! Travel if opportunities are given. Engage in social affairs. Do not speculate! Do not listen to gossip, and remember that scandal wants auditors as well as talkers! Do not make a business change!

Children born on this April 12 will have marked artistic tendencies, and very catholic tastes. They will be loyal and faithful to both their work and man, and will do well in both a social and business sense. They will strike out a path for themselves and will always do the unexpected.

Born on April 12, you are intellectually virile, and have many earmarks of an opportunist. Your material advancement is not a certainty but it is a certainty that you will see and know life, as few have the courage, ability or desire to do. Life will offer you a hodge-podge of mingled experiences and chances—much of it sweet, much of it exciting and interesting and no small amount of it bitter. The excitement will never go out of things for you, and the pleasures of your youth, to a greater or lesser degree, will be pleasures of your life time.

You are master of your own decisions, and your ear is usually deaf to advice-mongers. You want to play, work, laugh and cry with the rest of the world; in other words you want to be "one of them" wherever you may be. You do not mingle play and work, although you may be guilty of hurrying through the latter in order to throw yourself with abandon into the former. You are capable of being both indulgent and frivolous, or of being extremely sober and steady. Circumstances, more than moods, are the regulators of your actions. Your disposition is sunny, hopeful and merry, but you are not immune to storms of temper.

VICTORIANS MAY TOUR EUROPE BY AUTOMOBILE PLAN

The local branch of the Automobile Association of British Columbia is likely to be represented in the motor tour of Great Britain and the Continent of Europe this year. This is being carried into effect under the charge of the Travel Guild, Inc., of Chicago, and the Automobile Clubs of Canada.

R. R. Webb, secretary of the local club, has had a number of inquiries for particulars of this trip, which is confined to members of automobile clubs in this country. Under the arrangements the cars will be carried across the Atlantic and be utilized in the tour of the countries visited. A reduction in the fares across the ocean has materially cut the fares charged. The manager of the tours is expected to arrive in Victoria any day to confer with Mr. Webb as to local participants.

A little girl who had been left to watch the soup was presently heard to sing out: "Oh, mother, come quick; the soup is getting bigger than the pot."

KAY FRANCIS IS STAR AT CAPITOL

Co-Stars With Frederic March in "Strangers in Love" Which Opened Yesterday

Attired in formal evening clothes, and not without an invitation, Frederic March, Kay Francis and Stuart Erwin, went through the rigors of an informal dip in the Pacific Ocean.

It all happened offshore at Naples, California, not far from Los Angeles, and the invitation was Lothar Mendes', pursuant to his job as director on the new Paramount talking picture, "Strangers in Love," now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

The players were supposed to stand up as a light speedboat made a sharp turn, and catch each other to keep from toppling overboard. Instead, they missed their holds and found themselves in the water.

They were picked up by Director Mendes and members of his staff on a "camera" boat, none the worse for the experience except that Miss Francis ruined an evening dress and wrap, and March and Erwin came into possession of two complete bundles for the cleaner and laundry which previously had been immaculate formal attire.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol — Fredric March in "Strangers in Love."
Columbia—"Over the Hill," featuring Mae Marsh.
Dominion — Clark Gable in "Hell Divers."
Empire—"The Birth of a Nation."
Playhouse—May Astor in "Behind Office Doors."

Crystal Garden — Swimming, Dancing and Badminton.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Showing a cross-section of the typical home, the childhood sequence of "Over the Hill," Fox special playing at the Columbia Theatre, is said to hit home to the heart with all the poignant appeal of a rediscovered family snapshot. It is said to contain some of the finest "kid" scenes ever seen on the screen.

DOMINION THEATRE Wallace Beery, long an aviator in private life, has achieved an ambition. At last he has played one on the screen. Beery, as the veteran C.P.O. in "Hell Divers," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's gigantic drama of naval aviation, flies officially before the camera, the first actor in history to do so. He holds a government full transport licence, the highest civilian pilot's licence in the country. In the picture he actually flew for the camera, which followed him in another plane, and did it under full government sanction.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Melville Brown, who directed Radio Pictures' brilliant drama of office love, "Behind Office Doors," now showing at Playhouse Theatre, has been in the limelight for years as a director of comedy. He directed some of Chaplin's outstanding successes, and the Amos 'n Andy show, "Check and Double Check." Also on the same bill is Clara Bow in "Kick In."

EMPIRE THEATRE "The Birth of a Nation," which is now showing at the Empire Theatre, although first produced nearly twenty years ago, still remains the classic standard of picture greatness. Griffith's handiwork retains a masterful touch after all these years, so great is the spell. It stands out as the greatest conception of human effort and bigness in cinematography.

Beloved Actors To Appear Here

The announcement that Maude Adams and Otis Skinner, two of the best known and most beloved players on the American stage, are coming to the Royal Victoria Theatre for an engagement of one performance only, Friday evening, April 22, has already created unusual interest on the part of theatre-goers. The play selected for these popular stars is Shakespeare's celebrated comedy, "The Merchant of Venice." The co-stars are making a nationwide tour under the management of Erlanger Productions, Inc.

Miss Adams will appear as Portia, a role which she has never before played, although she has portrayed several other Shakespearean heroines, including Juliet, Rosalind and Viola. Mr. Skinner's Shylock is already well known to theatre-goers. He has impersonated the character several times during his long career, and always with pronounced success.

The return of Maude Adams to the stage after thirteen years' retirement to play Portia opposite Otis Skinner's Shylock in "The Merchant of Venice" stands unique in the annals of the theatre for the nationwide interest which it aroused at the time of the premiere in Cleveland and which continues unabated wherever these two beloved figures of the American stage elect to play.

VERSATILITY OF PIANIST SHOWN

In that one great individual, Paderewski, is combined a musician, a statesman, a philanthropist and a fascinating personality. His characteristics are perhaps best brought out in a few simple anecdotes:

Modesty: A presumptuous young woman sat down at Beethoven's piano and played a few measures. "Paderewski was here last week," the curator of the shrine said. "What did he play on this?" asked the woman at the piano. "Nothing; he said he was unworthy to touch this instrument."

Kindliness: Once when walking alone he heard his "Minuet" abused on a piano. He entered the house, found a piano teacher practicing and corrected some of the most easily changed faults of her technique. A year later he passed the house. At the door was a sign, "Pupil of Paderewski."

In one town everything had been arranged for Paderewski's concert but a piano. An old upright was found, but the hammers stuck. Paderewski hired a boy to stand beside the piano and knock back the hammers with a stick. But what became of a boy proficient enough to hit piano hammers as quickly as Paderewski's fingers touched the keys? Paderewski will appear in recital at the Royal Victoria on Friday, April 15.

COAL PRODUCTION SHOWS INCREASE

Canadian Output Greater Than Year Ago—B.C.'s Gain Nearly 20 Per Cent

OTTAWA, April 11.—Canadian coal producers reported an output of 1,888,349 tons of coal during February, an increase of 23.4 per cent over the February, 1931, production, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Alberta's production reached a total of 537,025 tons, as against 336,502 tons in February, 1931.

Compared with February a year ago, the British Columbia production of 174,027 tons showed an increase of 18.8 per cent; Saskatchewan's output of 108,435 tons recorded a 99.1 per cent advance.

Receipts of anthracite coal consisted of 119,495 tons from the United States, 8,916 tons from Great Britain and 650 tons from Belgium. Importations of bituminous coal totaled 378,848 tons, of which tonnage the United States supplied 99.3 per cent and Great Britain the remainder.

Exports of coal from Canada were recorded at 26,948 tons, or 24.5 per cent above the February, 1931, total. Approximately 72 per cent of the month's exports were cleared through customs ports in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Flooded rivers are causing considerable damage in Peru.

EIGHT MILLIONS PAID IN BONUS TO GROWERS

OTTAWA, April 11.—Up to December 31 last year a total of $8,483,348 had been distributed to the farmers of Western Canada under the provisions of the 5c-a-bushel wheat bonus, according to the annual report of the Board of Grain Commissioners tabled in the House of Commons today. This amount represented payment on 169,666,968 bushels of wheat.

Approximately 3,000,000 bonus certificates were received, checked and payment made thereon. The commissioners had to increase their staff of clerks and stenographers from twenty-five to eighty-two during the heavy shipping season.

WAGES STILL NOT SETTLED

Mayor and Ald. Hawkins to Resume Negotiations With City Firemen

For the fifth time negotiations will be resumed by the City Council with the firemen in connection with the proposed 10 per cent cut in wages.

At last night's meeting of the City Council it was decided to refer the firemen's decision and their formal statement to a committee, comprising Mayor David Leeming and Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins, chairman of the fire wardens.

Prior to this action, the firemen's decision to stand by the present wage agreement was read and a letter from the city solicitor advising the council that the wage agreement was made a year ago with the firemen was not binding upon the present council.

MORAL VIEWPOINT

The city solicitor, however, pointed out that this was his opinion, apart from the moral viewpoint of what had been termed a gentlemen's agreement.

Alderman Litchfield, in proposing an amendment that the matter be referred to three other aldermen, said he thought no good result could come from negotiations between the firemen and the two members of the council appointed to the special committee. Alderman Litchfield expressed the opinion that the Mayor had taken the wrong attitude to bring about an amicable agreement. He mentioned that the Mayor had stated a wage agreement existed and that this would have to be recognized. He then said that after the Mayor had made this statement to the firemen he had declared in answer to a question as to the basis of a cut, "10 per cent or nothing." This, Alderman Litchfield contended, was the wrong attitude.

NAMES COMMITTEE

After making this statement, Alderman Litchfield proposed that the wage question be referred to a committee, comprising Alderman Alex. Peden, Alderman W. H. Kinsman, and an alderman to be named by the firemen. His proposal, however, was not seconded.

Mayor David Leeming struck back at Alderman Litchfield, declaring that the alderman "had been a stumbling block in the way of the negotiations ever since the matter was brought up.

"Regarding the power of the council to cut salaries 10 per cent," His Worship stated, "I mention this as a matter of fact because that is the power of the council, and unless these negotiations succeed, the matter will be left in the hands of the council to decide."

SPORTSMANSHIP

Answering the firemen on the question of sportsmanship, which was referred to in their letter, the Mayor declared he was not challenging their sportsmanship, but standing behind it. He had always contended that the firemen would see the position the city was in and aid the council in every way possible.

The firemen, he said, stated they had been the only ones in 1923 to take a 7 per cent wage cut. "After looking over the city's record, I find that this cut not only applied to the firemen, but to every outside department of the city's services," the Mayor declared, "so they did not take the 'sock on the chin' for the rest of the employees, as they declare."

Alderman P. R. Brown then moved that the matter be referred to Mayor Leeming and Alderman Hawkins, chairman of the fire wardens. Before voting for the motion, Alderman Hawkins said he wished to make it clear that his decision in the matter of wage cuts was already made. Alderman Brown's motion carried.

Police Head Appointed

NORTH VANCOUVER, April 11.—Sergeant George Gauld will become head of the city police department upon retirement of Chief Peter Stewart on May 31, it was decided at a meeting of the Police Commission today. Constable Jake Young will be promoted to assume Sergeant Gauld's duties.

Appointments are for a three-month probationary period. Sergeant Gauld has served twenty years with the force.

Government salaries in the Union of South Africa are to be reduced.

MILLIONS HELPED TO HEALTH BY ALL-BRAN

Has "Bulk" and Vitamin B for Constipation; Also Iron for Blood

In ten years, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has gained an increasing number of friends. Today, it is used by millions with satisfactory results.

New tests show added reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN. Laboratory experiments prove it has "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

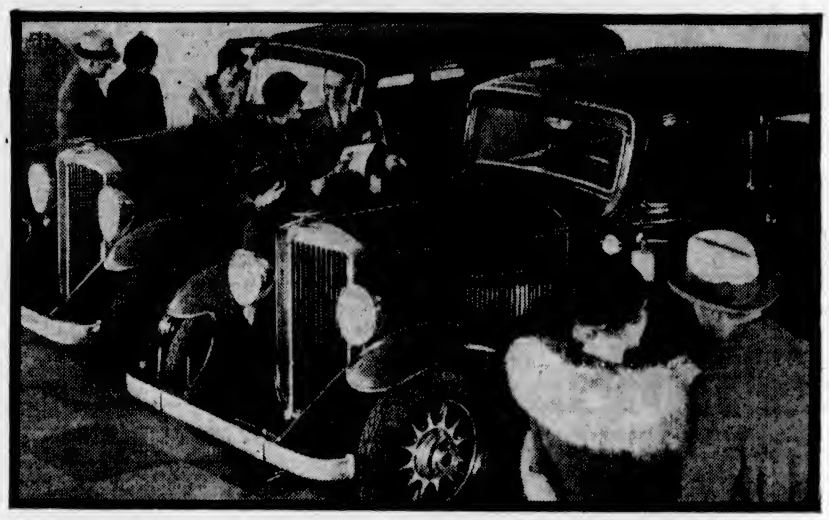

Another benefit of ALL-BRAN is that it has twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

The headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from constipation can be overcome by this pleasant cereal. How much better than using habit-forming pills and drugs.

ALL-BRAN action is gentle. Its "bulk" is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve as a cereal, or use in cooking. Tempting recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Empress of Asia Late Arriving—Brought Small Passenger List

Running into a dense fog in the Strait of Fuca, the Canadian Pacific liner Ss. Empress of Asia, Captain A. V. R. Lovegrove, R.N.R., commander, due to dock here at 8 o'clock yesterday morning from ports in the Far East, did not arrive alongside of Rithet Piers until shortly before 11 o'clock.

Officers of the ship reported an uneventful voyage from Yokohama, with the exception of the last few hours, when the fog was so thick that the ship had to be slowed down, giving the navigating staff some anxiety until the ship reached Race Rocks.

The Asia had 181 travelers in all classes aboard, including fifteen first class passengers, thirty-seven tourist class and 129 steerage. A number of passengers left the ship here, proceeding to points in the United States during the afternoon. Cargo for Victoria was small, and amounted to less than fifty tons. Vancouver and overland freight totaled 2,000 tons. Ships of the C.P. transpacific fleet, with the sailing of the Asia, will be back again on their old schedule.

Farmer, of Canton, proprietor of the Victoria Hotel in that city, en route to England, accompanied by Mrs. Farmer; L. C. Williams, of the firm of McKinnon & McKenzie, Tientsin, traveling to England, where he will spend the Summer, and Captain E. C. Paget, Tokio, factory representative in the Japanese capital for Hadfields, Limited, on his way to England on furlough.

Others aboard included T. R. McCreath, Shanghai, lately marine engineer connected with the Indo-Chinese Navigation Company, going to England, accompanied by his family; Mr. and Mrs. P. Z. Holzmueller, of Hamburg, proceeding home after a voyage around the world; Frederick Vaatz, representative of Kruppe & Company, Hamburg, returning to Germany following a business visit to the Orient; H. SHIP'S COOK WAS BRAVEST

Native of Liverpool Awarded Stanhope Gold Medal by Humane Society

At the 158th annual general meeting of the Royal Humane Society held in February of this year, the Stanhope Gold Medal for the bravest deed of the year was awarded to George Jenkins, ship's cook, of Walton, Liverpool.

During the passage of the London Missionary Society auxiliary schooner John William V from the Clyde to Colon, one of the crew, Alexander Samuel, was washed overboard from the jib-boom while furling a sail in mid-Atlantic. There was a heavy sea running at the time, a strong southwest gale was blowing, and the ship was quite unmanageable when the engines were stopped. A lifeboat was launched with difficulty and at considerable risk, but before it reached the water George Jenkins had already jumped overboard and struck out towards his shipmate with a lifebelt.

Unfortunately, however, although he spent nearly an hour in the raging sea before being picked up by the lifeboat, Jenkins was unable to reach the drowning man before the latter sank. It might be added that Jenkins was by no means an expert swimmer and that the lifeboat was smashed while being taken aboard. Swinging against the ship's side it became unhooked, filled with water and had to be abandoned.

MANY AWARDS MADE

It was reported at the meeting that 409 cases had been dealt with during the year and 485 persons rewarded for saving 401 lives and endeavoring to save sixty-eight others. Of the cases dealt with, 287 occurred in England, sixteen in Wales, forty-one in Scotland, twenty-three in Ireland, thirty-two in India and the Dominions, and sixteen in foreign countries or at sea. In addition to the award of the Gold Medal, there were seven silver medals and forty-four bronze medals awarded, 104 testimonials on vellum, 328 testimonials on parchment and three resuscitation certificates. Twenty-one awards were made to men of the naval and military services, and twenty-three to the police forces of the United Kingdom. One bronze medal and sixteen other awards were made to ladies.

Sir John Power, Bart., M.P., and Arthur A. Allen were elected to the committee in the place of Lord Arthur Hill and Sir William Adair (both deceased). Brigadier-General Hon. C. S. H. D. Willoughby was elected a trustee in the place of Sir William Bull (deceased).

Vancouver Freighter Ashore Near Union Bay

VANCOUVER, April 11 (CP).—The Ss. Eastholm, of Frank Waterhouse & Co. of Canada, Ltd., went ashore early this morning on a mud bank at Union Bay, according to reports received here today. It is stated she is undamaged and will refloat on the high tide tonight.

The vessel was laden with cans and lumber for Northern points, and it is possible she may be lightered before the attempt to refloat her is made. Young & Gore's tugboat Haro, with an empty scow, left here today to assist if necessary. The scow will be used for lightering if it is judged necessary to do so.

PRESENTATION MADE TO CAPTAIN HEWISON ON SALVAGE VESSEL

Prior to his departure on Saturday night last from the city in which he had made his home for some years past, Captain J. M. Hewison, former master of the Pacific Salvage Company's Ss. Salvage King, bade farewell to his late shipmates aboard the vessel, when he was presented with a suitable memento of the occasion, Mrs. Hewison also being remembered.

The presentation was made by W. G. Jordan, superintendent of salvage operations for the company, who expressed regrets on behalf of himself and members of the ship's personnel on the departure of Captain Hewison, and wished him every success and happiness in his new undertaking, at the same time hoping he would return to the Pacific Coast again.

Captain Hewison replied briefly on behalf of himself and Mrs. Hewison. While sorry to leave Victoria, he felt he was making the move in the best interests of his family. Captain Hewison and family will leave Montreal on Friday of this week aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Bedford, the first steamer out of the St. Lawrence this season.

First Ship Leaving

SARNIA, Ont., April 11 (CP).—The steamer Harmonic will clear from this port Saturday next for the head of the lakes to open the 1932 passenger and freight services, it was announced today by the Northern Navigation Co.

JAPAN DIGS IN NEAR SHANGHAI

Soldiers Prepare Trenches for Defensive Purposes—Feeling Is Intense

That the trouble between China and Japan is close to a satisfactory settlement is not altogether the belief of Wang Scheng-Ting, who was a passenger on the Empress of Asia arriving here yesterday from Shanghai. While the Colnese are waiting for the special commission of the League of Nations to gather the information in connection with the situation, the Japanese are busily engaged in digging trenches and preparing for defensive measures in the vicinity of Shanghai.

Mr. Wang Scheng-Ting thought that the Japanese action at Shanghai and in Manchuria would have a tendency to solidify national sentiment in his country and probably result in considerable good. He believed it would be a long time, if ever, before Japan could attain the place she once occupied in the Chinese market, the feeling against them being so intense.

Mr. Wang Scheng-Ting is connected with the Chinese Railway Commission, and is from Peiping. He arrived at Shanghai at the beginning of the trouble there and saw something of what took place. He is now on his way to Philadelphia, where he will enter the University of Pennsylvania, taking a post-graduate course in railway operation and management. He left here by Canadian Pacific ferry yesterday afternoon and will travel East from Seattle on the North-coast Limited, Northern Pacific Railway.

CUP RACES ESSENTIAL

Famous Flyer Considers Speed Contests as Important as Polar Exploration

Flights over the 3,500 miles separating London from New York, in six or seven hours, as a possibility of the comparatively near future, following on the development by British experts of highspeed racers for international Schneider Trophy contests, were foreshadowed by Wing-Commander Orlebar during his lecture recently to the Royal United Service Institution.

Orlebar, who in 1929 and again last year was the captain of the high-speed flight, was insistent on the value of the work done in producing the machines which have set the world's speed record at the astonishing figure of 407 1-2 miles an hour. He contended that the lessons learned were at least as valuable as the information gleaned from such activities as polar expeditions and mountain climbing. And the cost was not disproportionate; a single recent polar expedition had cost two and a half times as much as the estimated cost of competing in the 1931 Schneider contest.

SIMPLE TO HANDLE

Contrary to general lay belief, Orlebar stated that handling of the racing planes in the air was simple and straightforward. The pilot had an impresison of complete control of power that was most stimulating; when properly rigged, the 1931 racers could actually be flown level at a speed of 330 miles an hour with hands and feet off the controls. The difficulties of control were entirely associated with landing and takeoff. He pointed out that when one of the racers began to accelerate for the takeoff the pilot could see nothing because of the clouds of spray, and the slipstream from the airscrew swung the machine uncontrollably to the left until it reached a speed sufficient for the rudder to become operative. In landing the craft must be flown in at about 160 miles per hour, on touching the water deceleration was exceedingly rapid and the pilot's shoulders must be braced well back to avoid his being jerked on to the windscreen and breaking his goggles.

Wing - Commander Orlebar added that four years of steady British preparation for Schneider contests had seen the maximum speed raised from 280 to 400 miles per hour. Much could still be learned by continuing this high-speed research; he thought it by no means unlikely that velocities of the order of 400 miles an hour might be attained in the future by airplanes which could carry a useful load over fairly long distances.

Prices for Halibut Keeping Number of Fishing Boats Idle

CASCADE HARBOR, B.C., April 11.—The Home Fish Company's plant, C. Chojberg, is now busy making ice. A few shipments of halibut have been made already. Low prices, however, are causing many boats to remain tied up.

A few trollers have made their appearance here and the spring salmon season in Bate Pass will soon be in full swing.

The Home Oil Company has moved its gas tanks from Skinner's Point at Shushartie Bay. The float at that point has also been removed.

C. Doving has purchased the fish-packer Wiseknute and will operate her during the season from his plant at Hope Island.

A. E. Higgins has improved his store float and gas station at Hope Island and is now in readiness to take advantage of business offering through the season.

ORIENTAL COUNTRIES NOT ORDERING GREAT QUANTITIES OF ARMS

Reports circulated in the Orient to the effect that Japan and China had placed orders for large supplies of ammunition and armament in Europe, were referred to by Captain E. G. Paget, Tokio representative of Hadfield's, Limited, British armament manufacturers, as being greatly exaggerated. Captain Paget was a passenger on the Empress of Asia, arriving here yesterday on his way to London.

Although his firm dealt in armaments, Captain Paget intimated that the trouble in the Orient was not serious enough to warrant the placing of orders for large quantities of supplies. Whatever business had resulted was a matter of secrecy, at any rate. Under no pretext could the fighting recently indulged in be called a war. At no time were there more than three divisions actively engaged. Japan had plenty of equipment to carry on.

Japan was having her economic troubles, but was in a strong position financially, Captain Paget stated. A big loan is to be floated, and it will undoubtedly be disposed of domestically. The amount is for 490,000,000 yen, approximately $250,000,000.

French Educationist On His Way to Coast

VANCOUVER, April 11.—Georges Dejardin, professor of the faculty of science, the University of Lyons, France, accompanied by Madame Dejardin, will arrive in Vancouver Sunday evening on the Continental Limited of the Canadian National Railways.

M. Dejardin, who arrived in Eastern Canada the middle of last month, is in the Dominion gathering material for lectures dealing with education and travel in Canada. En route to the Pacific Coast he has visited the educational centres of the different provinces through which he passed, and while in Vancouver he will confer with members of the university faculty and others interested in educational work.

DINTELDYK WILL BE HERE THIS MORNING

From Rotterdam, London, and Swansea, the Holland-Amerika combined passenger carrier and freighter, Ms. Dinteldyk, Captain A. Dakema, will dock alongside Rithet Piers about 8:30 o'clock this morning, according to A. P. Moffatt, local agent of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company. The Dinteldyk will discharge approximately 200 tons of general cargo here, and will lift fifty-five tons for the outward voyage. Completing here, the ship will proceed to Vancouver, for which port she has 1,000 tons of general freight, including a big consignment of tin plate which was loaded at Swansea. Tin plate cargo for San Francisco totaled 4,000 tons.

When the ship left England, she had a number of passengers aboard, the majority of whom left the vessel at California ports. For Vancouver there are two passengers: R. E. Arthur-Houbion, from Swansea, and Miss F. M. Stubbs, from London. The Ms. Loch Katrine is the next ship of the Royal Mail Line due here, being scheduled for April 23.

Acids in Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain, How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach linina is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial diastants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take, and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. (Advt.)

PROTECTION OF PARKS WANTED

Local Council of Women Support Resolution Concerning Mt. Douglas Area

A resolution "deploring the wholesale destruction of beautiful trees and other features of natural beauty in Mount Douglas Park and other parts of the province," and asking that steps be taken to guarantee that no further destruction of trees or natural beauty be permitted, was passed at the meeting of the Local Council of Women yesterday on motion of Mrs. J. D. Gordon. Incorporated in the resolution was a cordial expression of appreciation to individuals and groups who were directing their energies to the preservation of the park's natural beauty.

Mrs. C. D. Schofield gave an interesting report of the central confidential exchange which is coming into operation shortly as the result of recommendations made by Mrs. Cameron Parker following her survey of social service agencies here last Autumn. The advantages of such an exchange, which will direct its energies to relief work now carried on by the various social agencies of the city, were pointed out, two special points being that it would obviate the chances of overlapping and at the same time operate on more efficient and expeditious lines. F. E. Winslow is chairman of the committee, which has already invited applications for someone to manage the exchange. The Social Service League had undertaken to hand over all its index cards, this being an excellent beginning in the matter of registration of cases which might require relief.

Mrs. W. J. H. Holmes gave a report of the women's workroom since its change to new premises. She commented on the success of the two-day sale held last week in the Sayward Building, from which $125 had been realized, and added that she had been informed that during the trying months of the Winter the workroom had not only been of material assistance to the employees but had undoubtedly, through its evidences of public sympathy, saved the reason of some of the workers.

An interesting report of the Mount Douglas Park question was given by Mrs. Hugh Mackenzie, who went into the whole history of the park trust and the discussions which have arisen following the cutting down of trees on the north side to make way for a new road. As a result of this report Mrs. J. D. Gordon moved the resolution mentioned above.

Members were urged by Mrs. McManus to take steps to observe Empire Day by supporting British Empire products.

DISTINCTIVE FLAG

On motion of Mrs. Roberts the meeting went on record as favoring the creation of a distinctive official Canadian flag, this matter being passed over from a previous meeting in order that it might be referred back to the affiliated societies.

Miss Crease presided, and reminded members of the tea to take place in the New Thought Temple on Friday afternoon, when Miss Redington, of Seattle, will show some prize quilts and will tell about quilt patterns, and Miss Alice Ravenhill will exhibit some of her rugs of Indian design.

CHURCHES ASKED HOSPITAL HELP

Congregations Fell in Line With Request to Assist Funds for Institution

The revival this year of Hospital Sunday in the churches of the city met with a very general response on the part of the various congregations. It has been some years since this practice of setting aside a special Sunday on which to make an appeal for help for the Royal Jubilee Hospital has been carried into effect. The pressing need of the institution, it was felt, warranted the revival of the practice, and accordingly special envelopes were printed and distributed among the churches.

There was a general readiness on the part of the congregations to fall in line with the suggestion, and in consequence it is anticipated that a substantial amount will be realized for the Jubilee. Clergymen stressed the need for aid.

Nothing definite will be known as to the amount so raised until after returns are made following next Sunday. The envelopes in many instances were taken home and are returnable next Sunday with the amount to be given indicated or enclosed. When these envelopes are tabulated, the total results of the drive will be available.

Magistrate—You say you are deaf. Can you prove it?

Prisoner—Well, Your Honor, can you hear that cornet playing outside?

Magistrate—I can.

Prisoner—Well, I can't.

When Reds Rioted in Washington

THESE pictures show how the police at Washington, D.C., handled the situation when Communists attempted to stage a demonstration in front of the Japanese Embassy to protest against Japanese aggression in China. Dozens of heads were cracked and scores of police uniforms were torn as cops had a free-for-all with men and women. The photograph on the left shows a policeman trying to revive a girl rioter who was knocked completely out in the fracas. The centre panel shows the scene in front of the Embassy as the police charged women and men with clubs swinging. Two of the forty arrested dissenters are shown at the right, proving a handful for the police.

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

As this is Clean-Up Week, Rover and I decided to clean up a lot of things that should have been attended to before this, but, you know how it is. One puts off, delays and procrastinates, and things pile up. Today's the day, and may we survive it!

First of all there is the very kind letter we received, last week, from a most kind lady, out Saanich-way, for which we thank her; and, as she was good enough to make an excellent suggestion, Rover and I, as soon as the weather grows steadier, (more prone to remain one thing or the other), we will only too gladly avail ourselves of the pleasure of visiting some of the "little gardens" around and about and try our hand at describing them.

At the moment Rover has rheums in his four feet, and especially in his fore feet, and his master has an attack of clean-up-itis.

Secondly, we are sure that there are many Victorians who are sorry, like ourselves, that the Drama Festival is over, as it was splendid, and we wish we had more space to tell those who missed it just what they missed; but, one suggestion we simply have to make. It's this:

There is no denying the highly educational value of the Drama Festival, so exceptionally well managed by a most competant committee. And too much praise cannot be given to the many artists who took part in the twenty-two plays we were fortunate enough to have seen and enjoyed at the Crystal Garden Theatre, and the very excellent music every night, which was supplied by talented musicians.

And, as after the annual Musical Festivals we are privileged to attend a grand concert of the prize winners of the Festivals, so, we would suggest that a gala performance be given after the Drama Festival, if possible, and some four or five of the best one-act plays be repeated, in aid of the Solarium, or some one of the other good institutions which are in need of funds.

If this were done, at popular prices of admission, we think the Royal Victoria Theatre would not be big enough to hold those admirers of our local dramatic talent; and the Solarium, or another good object, would receive a goodly sum of money.

The selection of the plays to be repeated could be safely left in the hands of the very competent committee; but, two rovers most sincerely hope that they would include "The Lyrebird," "Between the Soup and the Savory," "Shades of Night," "Catherine Parr," "The Philosopher in the Orchard," "The Bishop's Candlesticks," and, if possible, "The Golden Doom."

Our sincerest congratulations to all those who were responsible for such an entirely enjoyable British Columbia Drama Festival!

Encore! Ladies and gentlemen, and children!

Vive l'amour! et vive la bagatelle!

CLEAN-UP WEEK IS IN PROGRESS

Under Auspices of Junior Chamber of Commerce Active War Is Waged on Marring Effects

Under the auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a general clean-up of objectionable sections of the city and the painting and embellishing of buildings is now in progress. Citizens are asked to co-operate in the move which should do so much to improve the general appearance of the city.

George Beck, president of the Junior Chamber, points out that with the importance which attaches to the tourist trade, citizens should make it a point to see that Victoria is made as attractive to the visitors as it possibly can be.

The City Hall is co-operating in the matter and some unsightly old dumps in certain parts of the city are being freed of the old boilers and other marring effects which will materially add to appearances. The merchants have lent their aid, and in many cases are offering special inducements to house owners to improve the appearance of their places by offering special bargains in paints, etc.

Chinese Hospital Will Be Operated

The Chinese Benevolent Association will take over the old Chinese Hospital on the south side of Herald Street, and operate it as an institution for their sick compatriots, Alderman H. O. Litchfield informed last night's meeting of the City Council in recommending a sale of reverted property.

The hospital and site reverted to the city at the tax sale, and the association is now buying back the property for $900.

Sporting Gent (to parson who is reading a newspaper)—Excuse me, sir, do you mind letting me read the football scores?

Parson—Of course not; here you are.

Sporting Gent—Thank you, sir. Grand game football.

After scanning the page he suddenly cried: "Lumme, just my blooming luck—beaten by a short head."

VOTE "YES" AND PASS THE BY-LAW ON THURSDAY

Why By-Law Is Necessary

This requires a short review of the facts leading up to the present time.

Owing to unemployment relief costing much more than the City estimated in the year 1931, there was a deficit created by the end of the year, and which the 1932 Council has to provide for, amounting approximately to $165,000

Owing to the $200,000 of 5% Refunding Debentures authorized in 1931 not being sold during that year, and the subsequent drop in bond values, these bonds had to be sold in an unfavorable market. Loss, approximately..... $ 30,000

Owing to the nature of the work in the uncompleted programme of works left over from 1931, and which had to be completed in order to prevent a great loss on account of the sides of the open ditches caving in, the Council has to provide a sum of approximately..... $209,000

Owing to indigency the Council has to make provision for increased payments to the Jubilee Hospital, the Friendly Help Association, and other institutions. Approximate sum required.... $ 40,000

Decreased grants, owing to reduction in School Grant and costs of Social Services imposed, the 1932 Provincial Government Budget (9 months).. $ 73,000

Unemployment Relief Work. Estimated reductions in tax collections and many other items. Approximately $383,000

$900,000

Deduct amount of refunding of Serial Debentures authorized by the Provincial Government $200,000

Net increase in cash requirement over the 1931 levy. Approximtaely $700,000

Why By-Law Should Be Passed

FIRST—Because the taxes would otherwise be much higher than the tax-payer can afford to pay in these difficult times. In other words, a tax bill of $100 in 1931 would be increased to $141. An increase of 41%.

SECOND—Business property, which represents a very large investment in Victoria, is suffering from heavy reductions in revenues, and an increase of 41% in the taxes on this class of investment would be intolerable. This same reason applies in a lesser degree to rented dwelling property.

THIRD—Because taxes amounting to $200,000 are being paid on vacant property from which no revenue is derived, and an increase of 41% in taxes would result in many tax-payers on vacant property giving up their land in despair, thus adding to the number of vacant lots the City has on its reverted lands list.

FOURTH—Because it is necessary to keep this vacant land on the Tax Roll, otherwise the taxes on the property allowed to revert will be an added burden on the property on which taxes are being maintained.

How Failure to Pass the By-Law Will Affect Mill Rate and Consequences

Net increase in taxes, provided By-Law defeated. Approximately $700,000

This sum of $700,000 means a mill rate of over 59 mills, or an increase of 41% over 1931.

Each $100 tax in 1931 would be increased to $141, and in like proportion according to the amount previously paid.

The percentage of tax collections would be seriously affected, and a considerable reduction of revenue would ensue, and the Council would have to levy for the estimated shrinkage in collections, and thereby add further to the tax rate. This is a very serious item.

Owners of vacant land would let their holdings revert to the City, which already owns over 3,800 properties, and the taxes they failed to pay would fall on the man who is now paying his taxes.

Properties that are heavily mortgaged would be abandoned by their present owners, and many home-owners would lose their homes.

New Westminster Adanacs — S. Gifford, D'Easum (7), W. Gifford, Smiles (8), Hood (3) and Wilkie (6).

BOUCHER LEADS HOCKEY SCORERS

Rangers' Centre Star Garners Nine Points in Stanley Cup Play-Offs—Conacher Second

TORONTO, April 11 (CP).—Frank Boucher, canny centre ice player of New York Rangers, by picking up four points in Saturday night's Stanley Cup final with Toronto Maple Leafs, passed Charlie Conacher, Leaf wingman, and captured scoring honors in the National Hockey League play-offs.

Rifling three goals past Lorne Chabot and assisting in one other, Boucher increased his point-scoring total to nine, one more than Conacher, who finished second. Boucher was tied with Primeau, of the Leafs, for assists, garnering six in his seven games in the play-offs.

Conacher topped Bill Cook, of Rangers, by one goal to head the play-off scorers. He finished with six, one more than Harvey Jackson and Cook, who were tied for third place.

Ching Johnson, selected as a defence man on the Canadian Press all-star team, and Reginald "Red" Horner, rugged defence ace of Leafs, were the "bad" men of the championship rounds. Each spent twenty minutes with the timekeepers.

Marksmen Will Hold Shoot at Heals Tomorrow

THE first midweek shoot of the Victoria and District Rifle Association will take place tomorrow afternoon at the Heals Range at 2 o'clock from the 200-yard distance. Officially the season opened last Saturday and a fine turnout of marksmen was noticed. Another fine list of entries is expected at the ranges tomorrow with good weather predicted.

BOXERS ARE GIVEN MEDALS

Sgt. Hocking and Cpl. Osman Receive Awards at Armories

Meeting the cream of the British Columbia boxers at the championship finals last Thursday and Friday in New Westminster, Sergt. R. Hocking and Corpl. J. Osman, 1st Battalion Canadian Scottish Regiment, carried off the provincial championship crowns in the welterweight and middleweight classes respectively.

Thursday night the two Victoria boys carried off the honors in the semi-finals, and the success they achieved spoke well for their skill, condition and their regimental trainer, Sergt. Dave Lewis, himself a boxer of note. In the third round, Hocking gained a decision over Ernie Rillman, of Vancouver, while Osman defeated Len Brown, of the Y.M.C.A., Victoria, by a technical knockout in the first round.

Friday night brought them to the finals, and Hocking won fresh laurels for himself and the battalion by defeating Les Gales, of the Langley Athletic Club, with a first-round knockout, and a short time later, making two fights in one evening, he scored a technical knockout in the first round over L. Landreville, of Vancouver. This brought him the title of welterweight champion of British Columbia for the second successive year.

Osman, hard-fighting tyro, with only one year of boxing to his credit, emerged victorious with a decision over J. Diksten, of the Viking Athletic Club, thereby earning the title of middleweight champion of British Columbia.

Last night, Colonel Brooke Stephenson, commanding officer of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, presented the medals to the clever fighters in front of the battalion on parade.

CITY WILL MEET

All signed players of the Victoria City First Division football eleven are asked to attend a special meeting this evening at the Veterans of France at 8 o'clock. Important business will be discussed.

Starts Today With Dodgers

HACK Wilson, home run king of the 1930 season with fifty-six circuit drives to his credit, who was the storm centre of the National League last year while a member of the Chicago Cubs and was finally suspended with heavy fines for the trouble he caused with the management and players. Wilson is now a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers under Manager Max Carey, and the fans are wondering whether or not he will stage a comeback or join the ranks of the stars of yesterday. The pudgy outfielder will appear in a Brooklyn uniform today for the first time, and his batting throughout the season will be watched closely.

Esquimalt XI Will Meet Jokers Squad In Cup Semi-Final

Dockers to Oppose Strong Eleven in Second Game of Double-Header Soccer Programme Saturday—Victoria West Clashes With City

Four local First Division soccer clubs will be seen in action on Saturday afternoon in the semi-final rounds of the Jackson Cup series. Officials of the Lower Island Football Association announced yesterday that they would put on another double-header at the Royal Athletic Park, commencing at 2 o'clock. Victoria West will clash with Victoria City in the curtain-raiser, with McMillan in charge, while Esquimalt, defending cupholders, will face the Jokers in the second tilt, with Woodley as referee.

Both games should be closely fought, and another large crowd is expected to be at the enclosure. Last week a twin bill was put on, and the fans turned out in full force and witnessed some first-class soccer for their money. The survivors of these games will meet in the final for the trophy, which is symbolic of the Lower Island senior football championship.

DEFENDING TITLE

Esquimalt swept through the series a year ago after a tough schedule, and are out to repeat. The Dockers-Jokers game should feature Saturday's card, as the Wests are strong favorites to eliminate the City from further competition. Displaying fine form, Esquimalt put out a strong club in the Saanich Thistles last week by a 3-1 score.

With the Jokers at full force, Esquimalt will have a hard assignment and will have to be at their best to hurdle themselves into the final. Jokers suffered a 5-2 setback last week at the hands of the greenshirts, but nothing was at stake and neither club extended themselves, although the Wests showed up well and will have to be watched during the series.

George I. Warren Breaks Up Annual Meeting by 'Phone

VANCOUVER, April 11.—A hurried long-distance telephone call from George Warren, champion of Victoria's interests in staging the Olympic syimming trials for Canada, broke up the annual meeting of the British Columbia section of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association on Saturday night at the Austin Hotel, a few minutes after John Munro took the chair in the absence of Allan Clampitt, retiring president of the British Columbia body.

Warren pleaded ignorance of the date of the meeting and his plea for postponement of the meeting for one week was granted on the grounds that the Vancouver Island clubs had not been notified individually, although R. W. Hibberson, of Victoria, had been instructed regarding the date three weeks in advance, according to the constitution.

TO CONSTRUCT NEW STADIUM AT N. YORK

NEW YORK, April 11.—Madison Square Garden Corporation announced today construction work would begin at once on a new $500,000 bowl-shaped stadium in Long Island City, fifteen minutes from Broadway, and be completed in time to furnish the site for the Sharkey-Schmeling world heavyweight title fight, June 16.

The announcement came as a surprise as it had been expected the title fight would be held in the Yankee Stadium or Polo Grounds.

Plans call for a seating capacity of between 70,000 and 80,000.

Col. Styles Will Be Commandant of 1932 Bisley Team

OTTAWA, April 11 (CP).—Col. A. G. Styles, of Regina, Sask., will be the commandant of Canada's 1932 Bisley team, the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association announced today. Colonel Styles is officer commanding the 19th Infantry Brigade, with headquarters at Regina.

The adjutant of the Dominion's team to participate in the National Rifle Association meet at Bisley will be Capt. F. Gardiner, of the Vancouver Regiment.

Members of the team are now being selected and announcement of the complete personnel will be made the first week in May. The team will have seventy-eight shooting members, in addition to the two officers named. It will sail from Montreal on June 11, returning to the Dominion about August 1.

COLWOOD WINS GOLF FIXTURE FROM G. VALE

Captures First Half of Interclub Match by 22-18 Score After Close Battle

JIMMY TODD DOWNS LINEHAM IN FEATURE

Chalking up two-point victories in both the singles and foursomes, Skipper J. H. "Mickey" Richardson and his first string squad of golfers representing the Royal Colwood Club scored a 22-18 win over Captain Dave Fyvie and his Gorge Vale aggregation Sunday at the Colwood battlegrounds. Play in both divisions was close and fine golf featured the various matches. A return fixture will be staged at Gorge Vale later in the season.

Colwood captured the singles, 11-9, and duplicated this score in the fourball matches for their four-point margin. Shooting close to par golf, Jimmy Todd, Gorge Vale champion, defeated Harold Lineham, Colwood's top-notcher, in the feature singles match. C. I. Mackenzie bowed to Percy Edmonds in another close game. Todd and Mackenzie teamed together to take the points from Lineham and Edmonds in the main fourball attraction.

Women Golf Teams Meet at Macauley Course Tomorrow

Twelve women players from the Uplands Golf Club will travel to the Macauley Point links tomorrow to engage in the first half of their annual interclub match. Both teams will be at full strength and some close matches should be the result. The first match will get away at 1:15 o'clock.

Dick Irvin Leaves For Son's Bedside

TORONTO, April 11 (CP).—Dick Irvin, silver-haired coach of Toronto Maple Leafs, left hurriedly for his home in Regina last night in response to a telegram informing him his baby son is ill.

The lean Westerner, who guided the Leafs to Stanley Cup victory and a world's professional hockey title Saturday night, when the speedy Queen City squad disposed of New York Rangers, 6-4, in the third of the best-of-five games series, was still receiving congratulations at his hotel when the bad news arrived.

Less than an hour after the telegram was received he was on his way to Regina, hurrying to the side of his month-old son, whom he has never seen

Senators Nose Out Boston Red Sox in Tenth Inning, 1-0

Heinie Manush's Double in First Extra Frame Breaks Up Pitching Duel Between Crowder and MacFayden—President and Mrs. Hoover Attend—Rest of Teams Start Season Today

WASHINGTON, April 11. — Baseball put on one of its finest shows—an extra-inning pitcher's battle—to usher in the 1932 major league season today before President and Mrs. Hoover. For the first time in four years Mr. Hoover, as President, has been tossing out a new white ball for the inaugural game, the Washington team won its opening start, overcoming the Boston Red Sox, 1 to 0, in the tenth inning on a walk followed by a rousing double from the big bat of Heinie Manush.

Through inning after inning the rival right-handers—Danny MacFayden for Boston and Alvin Crowder for the Senators—battled on even terms with both teams giving midseason support on a diamond damp and slow from recent rains.

An exciting moment came in the fifth inning, when Pickering, the Boston third sacker, doubled and Van Camp, first baseman, sacrificed. Fast fielding of Oliver's grounder by Bluege and a quick throw cut off Pickering at the plate. It was the nearest Boston came to a score.

The remainder of the clubs in both the American and National Leagues will open their pennant races today. Both the St. Louis Cardinals, National and world's champions, and the Philadelphia Athletics, American League winners, are favored to start their campaigns and wind up in September at the head of the scramble, and then fight it out for another world's title.

Connie Mack's crew will start against the hard-slugging New York Yankees, while the Cardinals will face George Gibson's Pittsburgh Pirates. The fans are all waiting to see such personalities as Babe Ruth, Lou Gehring, Hack Wilson, Art Shires, Frank Crosseti, the sensational recruit from the Pacific Coast League, and a host of others in action, and are expected to fill the parks to capacity.

INTEREST IN WILSON

Great interest is aroused over the appearance of Hack Wilson in a Brooklyn uniform this season. Hack has produced more baseball copy during the last two seasons than any one player. In 1930 he clouted out fifty-six homers, to lead the great Ruth to the finish line, with plenty to spare. Last year, he was a downright flop and was on the suspended list before the league terminated, with heavy fines opposite his name. Will Wilson come through with the goods this year under Manager Max Carey? This is a question which only time can answer.

Probable batteries for today's games follow:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York, at Philadelphia: Gomez or Ruffing and Dickey; Earnshaw and Cochrane.

Cleveland, at Detroit: Ferrell and Sewell; Sorrell and Ruel.

St. Louis, at Chicago: Stewart and Ferrell; Hadley or Frasier and Grube.

Boston, at Brookiyn: Brandt and Spohrer; Hoyt and Lopez.

Pittsburgh, at St. Louis: French or Harris and Finney; Rhem and Wilson.

Chicago, at Cincinnati: Root and Hartnett; Johnson or Lucas and Lombardi.

BILLIARDS

Britannia Branch No. 3 scored a 493-484 victory over the T.V.A. in a "C" Division match in the Interservice Billiard League last night on the former's home table. The winning team scored two victories and dropped the other two matches by five and two points.

MILLER WINS NANAIMO MIX

Chicago Wrestler Captures Main Event From Young Londos in Fifth Round

NANAIMO, April 10.—In the main event of wrestling at Pygmy Arena last evening, Bob Miller won the match over Young Londos in the fifth round with a body slam.

Young Londos received severe injuries to his neck when Chicago Bob Miller tackled him before the bell rang for the fifth round. Londos was entitled to the match, according to rules, but decided to carry on after a talk with Referee Kelly, thereby making him an easy mark for Miller to win the match when the bell rang in the fifth, retaining for Miller the Pacific Coast title belt.

The semi-final between Hank Page, of Aberdeen, and Carl Massong, of Ohio, was a fast and furious affair, and had the fans on their feet. Massong gained the first fall in the second with a body press, Page winning the next fall, in the third, with a Boston crab. The fourth was a good round and after five minutes, Massong pushed Page through the ropes, landing heavily among the spectators. He just managed to scramble into the ring before the count, badly hurt. His opponent quickly grabbed him and ended the bout with a Boston crab Page had to be carried to his dressing-room, where it was discovered he had sustained two broken ribs.

Rufus Owen, of Brechin, and Tom Gregory, of Northfield, wrestled to a draw, each securing a fall.

Ray Gillis and Smythe, two local lads, put on a good exhibition, Gillis winning the only fall of the match with a hammerlock and body press in the third round.

Leonard Is Easy Winner Over Brown

NEW YORK, April 11.—Benny Leonard, retired undefeated lightweight champion, continued his comeback campaign at St. Nicholas Arena tonight by handing Buster Brown, of Baltimore, a neat trouncing in ten rounds. Leonard weighed 151 pounds; Brown, 145 1-2.

Leonard still showed a distressing tendency to trip over his own feet but he had no trouble at all outpointing Brown by a wide margin.

FAVORITES WIN IN TITLE MEET

Mrs. Jackson, Defending Champion, Scores Easy Victory in Uplands Golf Tourney

Mrs. E. Jackson, defending titlist, Miss Laura Archibald, Mrs. R. A. Semple and Mrs. Mackenzie-Grieve came through with victories in the first rounds of match play for the women's championship of the Uplands Golf Club yesterday. Two matches were walk-aways and the other pair were closely fought from the first tee to the last green. The first rounds of the second and third flights also took place with close and one-sided results being registered.

The present champion, Mrs. Jackson, had little difficulty in advancing to the semi-final bracket, scoring an 8-7 victory over Mrs. Watson. Mrs. Jackson was medalist, leading the field by sixteen strokes, thus serving notice that she will be the entry to beat to take the crown. Miss Archibald was carried to the eighteenth green before disposing of Miss Grant, while Mrs. Semple downed Miss Wolfenden, 5 and 4. Mrs. Mackenzie-Grieve and Mrs. Boyd engaged in a merry battle, the former emerging victorious on the last carpet.

Fred White Drops Shot At Macauley

Fred White, former old-time lacrosse star, who took to the Royal and Ancient game after his athletic days were over, became a full fledged member of the Hole-in-One Club on Sunday at the Macauley Point Golf Club when he dropped his tee shot over the trees at the short ninth hole for a dodo, while playing in the second round of the club championship against Alex Geddes. Naturally Fred won the hole, but lost the match 3 and 2, and therefore passed out of the title scramble.

PORTCODINE WINS TANFORAN FEATURE

SAN BRUNO, Cal., April 11.—Coming from behind in a great stretch run, Portcodine nosed out a fast field today to win the feature race at Tanforan track. The winner's time over the A. B. Spreckels course, 170 feet less than six furlongs, was 1 min. 11 secs. The winner paid $10.80 on $3 preferred options and $3.40 on $2 secondaries.

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Most Shining Mark of Heroism—Gaius Mucius, the shining mark of Roman fortitude, was captured by King Porsenna of Clusium and confessed that it had been his intention to assassinate the King in order to raise the royal blockade of Rome. He was thereupon sentenced to be burned alive, but before the sentence could be executed Mucius thrust his right arm into the blazing fire and held it there, without flinching, until the arm had burned completely off.

The King, impressed by the proud Roman's indifference to pain, ordered Mucius liberated. Henceforth the latter became known as Scaevola, meaning "the left handed."

A Great Poetic Stunt—Henry Harder's famous alliterative poem consists of 100 Latin hexameters, and begins with the line "Cattorum canimus certamima clara canumque." Every word in the poem begins with the letter "C."

IMPORTANT MIDWEEK FIXTURE BILLED TOMORROW

Saanich United Will Battle Garrison in Pendray Cup Match

Victory for Suburbanites Will Give Them Possession of Coveted Trophy—Will Be First Cup for Saanich Eleven Since Entering League —Game to Commence at 3:30 o'Clock

Season after season Saanich United have competed in the Wednesday Football League and never once did they have the luck to have their name scratched on a single trophy up for competition. The Hayward and Rennie & Taylor Cups evaded them early this year and it looked as if the 1931-32 schedule would be written into the books with the suburbanites as also rans. Tomorrow afternoon, at the Work Point Barracks, Saanich will have their one big chance to win a cup when they clash with the Garrison in the final game of the Pendray Cup series at 3:30 o'clock with Alcock handling the whistle. This is the only game on schedule and a large crowd is expected to be on hand.

The suburbanites are confident of trimming the Tommies as they took them into camp last week to stay in the running for the silverware, 5-0, and see no reason why they should not repeat on the Barracks pitch. A win for the lads from the suburban district will create history in local midweek soccer.

SAANICH MUST WIN

Saanich must win to come through, as a defeat will give the Navy the cup by a single point, while a draw will cause a play-off with the sailors. Last week, Saanich left nothing undone and swept through to a decisive victory. The team played fine football and ran the Tommies off their feet from the opening whistle. With Walter Rowe between the sticks and Lloyd Cann and George Wyatt at fullback, Saanich will be formidable on the back division. Les Stonier, Eric Moir and Bobby Love form a strong intermediate trio. Frod Tooby will be at left wing, with Chuck Chapman playing the inside position. Bobby Burns has been assigned to centre and Art Chapman at inside right. Maurice Speller is expected to complete the front rank. Since the two Chapman brothers have joined the team, Saanich has picked off several sweet victories. Both lads are hard workers and dangerous at all times. With this team clicking right, Manager Teddy Hawkes is jubilant of his chances of returning from Work Point with the Pendray Cup.

Just who will line up for the Garrison is not yet known, but they should present a strong team and

America's Milers

By HARDIN BURNLEY

IMAGINE a human being running a mile in anywhere from four minutes and eight seconds to four minutes and five seconds! It sounds incredible, but that is the prediction of famous coaches who have watched that tall, graceful youth of Pottstown, Pa., Gene Venzke, in action. No man, living or dead, has ever traversed this distance in better than 4:09 1-5, a mark set by that great French middle-distance star Jules Ladoumegue, who, unfortunately, has been definitely barred from Olympic competition. But veteran observers, who noted the ease with which Venzke ran a 4:10 mile in New York were not hesitant in making the above prediction.

Boyd Comstock, of Los Angeles, rated as one of the three best coaches in the country, had this to say of Venzke after seeing him in New York.

"He is the only perfect running machine that I have ever seen. It is possible to pick flaws with such champions as Nurmi, and others, but Venzke does not do a single thing that is wrong in form when in action. Mike Sweeney, coach and former high jump champion, is responsible for Venzke's marvelous improvement. Carefully, scientifically he has developed Gene step by step so that now he runs a mile in record time without so much as drawing a breath. He is a model of relaxation, physically and mentally. It was apparent to me on the night he ran the mile in 4:10 that he could have hit 4:05 if he had wished to extend himself. Venzke is the ideal build, standing six feet two and weighing 165 pounds. His legs seem to rebound from the track."

Quite a tribute to the boy, who less than a year ago, was known in track circles as the "man who always finished second." But this is another year and Venzke looms right now as America's bet to win both the 1,500 meters and the mile at Los Angeles.

However there are other great milers in America, men capable to stepping the distance in close to record time and who, under the driving incentive of the Olympics, may travel seconds faster than ever before in their lives. Notable among them is that great miler of Harvard, "Pen" Hallowell, who recently won the Intercollegiate A. A. A. A. mile in record time. Hallowell stepped the distance in 4:12 2-5, breaking the tape a step in front of the lionhearted Francis Nordell, of N.Y.U., who also came home in record time.

In addition to Hallowell and Nordell there are other prominent contenders for a place on the American Olympic team. They are Russell Brocksmith, Indiana's new mile sensation; Frank Crowley, Manhattan star, and the veteran Leo Lermond, who is racing in splendid form right now.

NORM WALLACE REACHES SEMIS

Defending Champion Registers Easy Wins in Macauley Golf Club Championship

Handing crushing defeats to D. Mills and Charlie Smith, Norm Wallace, defending champion, established himself a strong favorite to capture his fourth crown in five years in the men's annual championship of the Macauley Point Golf Club Sunday. The present titleholder ousted Mills in the first round, 7 and 6, and then eliminated Smith via the 8-and-6 route in the afternoon. Wallace reach the semi-finals along with R. Ryley, Filmer Morgan and Alex. Geddes.

E. Wright, who was tied for top place in the qualifying round with Geddes, passed out of the picture in the first round by falling before the final playing of J. Morgan, who succumbed to Ryley in the second round on the last green. Geddes advanced to the semis by downing G. Redhead in the morning, one up, and Fred White after lunch, 3 and 2. Morgan put out G. THE CARDINALS

A simple equation is supposed to carry the destiny of the world's champion Cardinals—does Dean plus Carleton plus Starr plus Teachout equal Grimes?

While the most perplexing matter at the moment has been the hesitancy of Chick Hafey in reporting for service, the Cards certainly won their 1931 laurels in the pitching box and will have to hold them there. Gabby Street believed he could get along without Grimes' arm, which won seventeen games in 1931 and sewed up the world's series.

At the time, Dizzy Dean was buzzing around with confidence that this year would see him denting the major league opposition, but subsequent developments have raised a question whether Dean will contribute many of those seventeen wins. Tex Carleton, Dean's minor league slabmate, has shown to much better advantage, though Dean braced after his two sorrowful introductions.

Last year the Cards had two men in the deadlock for the batting championship, Hafey and Bottomley, who had been on the skids in 1930 and was consigned to oblivion by a few prophets at the opening of the '31 race.

Hafey reported late but got busy and delivered a great punch. Street had a plug all ready to fill the gap should Bottomley falter, in Jim Collins, a mighty capable understudy. Now Collins is being groomed as a left fielder and taking the treatment well. He is a turn-around hitter and broke in as an outfielder.

Street is giving him plenty of encouragement, but he'll be the sensation of the league if he does everything the defending batting champion would be expected to do. And then there is always the chance that Hafey may climb on the band wagon.

Pepper Martin bobbed up last Fall to become the spotlighted player of the National League. He hit an even .300 and showed unbounded pep and cleverness on the attack. Babe Ruth and some of the other stars who know what it is to be in the glare feel Martin will have a tough time justifying his reputation, but Street has faith in Pepper, and Pepper has faith in himself.

He started the training season by passing Arlittle, but has dropped into a groove of nice playing. George Watkins, the Cards' right fielder, crashed the majors with a vim in 1930, compiling an average of .373. Last year his skirmishes with the pitchers were less successful and he hit .288. He should boost that average a few more points this season. He looks like a sound .300 hitter. Hornsby has said that he much prefers Watkins to Martin as an all-around gardener.

Having Jimmy Wilson behind the bat and Gelbert at shortstop provides comfort for Street and the managers of the St. Louis chain-store business. Wilson is the ablest backstop in the loop, and Charley Gelbert has lots of admirers. When you add the fact that Frankie Frisch is the peer of second basemen in the league, you have more than enough reasons why only pitching is needed by Street's club.

Rogers Hornsby in a recent interview prophesied that Paul Derringer wouldn't look back on '1932 with as much satisfaction as he views his '31 start. Last year he collected eighteen victories although he didn't rate as a starting pitcher until the first month that slipped by.

If Derringer should sag, now that Grimes is gone, a heavy burden will be laid on Wild Bill Hallahan, Rhem and Johnson, the mainstays. Jess Haines has looked fine in training and, picking his spots, may be expected to compile a high average of wins against losses. But he can't be rotated with the others.

Carleton and one or two of the other young flingers will have to come through. Despite the Cards' league-leading position in team fielding in 1931, they were only third in batting, behind the Cubs and Giants.

CHINA DEPENDS ON THE LEAGUE

Conference at Shanghai Appears Hopeless—Fighting Continues in Manchuria

SHANGHAI, April 11 (AP).—China has turned over to the League of Nations the whole subject of withdrawal of Japanese troops from the Shanghai area, the Associated Press was informed tonight by Quo Tai-Chi, chief of the Chinese delegation attending the peace parleys here.

"This conference apparently is hopeless," he said, "but maybe the League can help. The Japanese have refused to set a time limit on their withdrawal, and if they persist in this view the conference is doomed to fail."

OCCUPY VILLAGE

TOKIO, April 11 (AP).—The Japanese military expedition at Chienlao, Manchuria, occupied the village of Ehrtaokou, west of Paitsaokou, after an engagement with the Chinese rebels, in which three Japanese and sixty Chinese were killed, dispatches to the Rengo News Agency today said.

The Chinese burned two-thirds of the 400 houses in the town before the Japanese arrived, the dispatches said.

Dispatches from Harbin, Manchuria, said the rebels reoccupied Hailin and neighboring towns following the withdrawal of the Japanese and charged that the rebels killed several Japanese and Chinese residents on their return.

GENERAL ASSASSINATED

HARBIN, Manchuria, April 11 (AP).—A Rengo (Japanese) News Agency dispatch yesterday reported that General Ting Chao, commander of the Chinese irregulars who have been fighting Japanese and Manchoukuo troops in Eastern Kirnan Province, had been assassinated at Alan, Manchuria, on April 6, by his own henchmen.

CHANGE MADE IN KNOCKOUT RULING

NEW YORK, April 9.—Following the precedent it set in declaring Billy Petrolle defeated Bat Battalino in twelve rounds instead of scoring a technical knockout over the Hartford battler, the New York State Athletic Commission has revised its rule concerning knockouts.

Only when the count of ten is tolled over a boxer will he be called a knockout victim. The revised rule, just handed out, says: "The following decision shall be rendered when a referee intervenes to save a boxer in distress from further punishment —'Contest stopped'—'Unable to continue'—'Wins.'"

HAFEY TRADED TO CINCINNATI REDS

ST. LOUIS, April 11. — Charles "Chick" Hafey, batting champion of the National League last year and a Cardinal holdout this Spring, has been traded to Cincinnati Reds in a deal involving Benny Frey, right-handed pitcher, it was announced today by the Cardinal management.

More than 250,000 people saw the French art show in London this year.

Dear Doc,

Wot I says is, de oily bold catches de woim! I'se just stepped in from Noo Yoik, wit me skoit. (Me skoit's de goil wot used to woik as noice-goil to de Lindboigs, in Noo Joisey, an' we made de joiney, wit all our foiniture and wolidly gooda—all de way from N.Y. to heah—in an upper boith!)

Now, Doc—youse on 'inside" in dis boig. Youse knows whose woith "ten grand" an' whose woith "fifty grand," dontcher? O.K., Doc,—so youse gimme de "shake downs" to de local "big-shots"—den, leave de doity woik to me! Den, we split, foity-foity (de xtry twenty's to muzzle de Buils wit—get me?)

All on de "up an' up," Doc! Youse gets de soivices of a expoit for nutting, an' we bofe gets Ritzy and polchases a swell dump on Poik Avenoo! Wot say, Doc? Rosa' tolkey on de Avenoo—or hamboiger an' onions on "Main-an'-foity-foist"?

All on de level,

BOIT MOIPHY.

Dear Bert,

I have discussed your proposition with the local "Gendarmerie," and they think it sound. The twenty-per-cent quite appeals to them, and the forty is a strong incentive for me to condone your scheme and "show you round" a bit.

I suggest we start tomorrow morning with a social "round up" of all Banks. It is my custom, at the end of each month, to visit all Bank Managers in the City, and pick up my notes for reindorsement. I shall introduce you as my new anaesthetist, which will privilege you to prowl round the various premises and quietly chloroform entire staffs, while I am discussing adhesions and contract bridge with the Managers.

When we've cleaned up on the Banks, I propose a stroll through Oak Bay and the Uplands, where I shall call on some of my wealthiest and most gullible patients, and gravely inform them they are practically dropping to pieces with smallpox, and rush them to hospital. So, while the "Great Homes" of Victoria are emptying themselves of their terrorized proprietors, YOU will be down in the dining-rooms, etc., filling potato-sacks with "plate," prints, Gainsboroughs, Jap oranges, etc., and any valuables that you think would look well in our future abodes on Park Avenue!

In the event of us being discovered—well, we'll just have to think up a good excuse—or laugh it off, lightly—or snoop around their pianos and kid them we're hunting for Lost Chords, or something. Anyway, we'll do just as we please, and if people get rude and interfere, we'll make heel-marks on their lawns, eh?

O.K., Boit! Foity-foity it is! But don't double-cross me, Buddy! I can handle a "rod" as slick as de next guy, an' I'll gum youse woiks up wit plenty of lead if yo tries to pull a fast one! De woim will toin, Boit —an' de "Dead House" ain't so "Ritzy"!

O.K., Pal.

Security Prices Drop Lower at New York Mart

NEW YORK, April 11.—Stocks swung back into the decline today as investigation of market affairs by the Senate banking committee began at Washington.

Volume, at 1,684,244 shares, was somewhat smaller than in some of last week's declines. Declines of 1 to 7 points in active issues more than cancelled gains made on Saturday.

Few leaders, at one time or another, failed to make new lows. U.S. Steel dropped to 33, recovered most of its loss and then eased back to 33 5-8, down 6 1-8; American Can sold under 50 for the first time this bear market and was a couple of points low at the finish. Consolidated Gas, Allied Chemical, Du Pont, American Tobacco "B," People's Gas and Auburn were 2 or more lower. Food shares met little support, especially National Biscuit, which had the unusually large extreme drop of 3 3-4.

There was nothing to account for the late break in rails, which carried Santa Fe down more than 7 to 45 1-8, and Union Pacific, 5 to 52 3-4. New York Central closed at 20, off 2. Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio sagged about 1. Utilities were generally friendless. American Telephone held fractionally above the old minimum, and at the afternoon rally's top had virtually made up a loss of 2 3-4, but it was down 2 net at 106.

All classes of bonds continued to subside today, although trading became duller than usual with wide gaps apparent between the majority of bids and offers.

The United States Government list broke its upward trend and reacted moderately under fairly heavy profit taking. Five of the Federal loans, however, again reached new highs for the year before deciding to take a breathing spell.

The railroads bore the brunt of today's liquidation, and losses averaged from 1 to 3 points.

WHEAT VALUES MOVE HIGHER

Gain of Nearly Two Cents Recorded at Winnipeg Market

WINNIPEG, April 11 (CP).—Stimulated by a substantial decrease in the United States wheat visible supply and fair-sized export sales over the week-end, wheat prices steadily advanced throughout today's session of the grain market to close 1 3-4 cents higher.

Offerings at no time pressed on the market and a good volume of trade was recorded. May, closing at 64 cents, gained 1 3-4, with July close behind at 65 7-8, up 1 3-4 to 1 5-8. October was 1 5-8 higher at 68 to 68 1-8 cents.

Export business over the week-end was estimated at 700,000 bushels, mostly at Vancouver.

Adverse crop reports continue to be received from the United States. Dry weather holds sway over the entire Winter wheat belt with no relief in sight.

Improvement was noted in cash grains, though offerings continued light, and spreads closed fractionally higher. Operations in coarse grains were chiefly routine with prices closing with slight gains.

MONTHLY INDEX OF CANADIAN BUSINESS CONDITIONS

ADJUSTED FOR LONG-TIME TREND AND SEASONAL VARIATIONS

COPYRIGHT 1930, McCONNELL & FERGUSSON LIMITED - RESEARCH DEPARTMENT

Beginning with this issue, the trend of Canadian business will show conditions up to the first of the month whose name it bears. This alteration in the method of presentation is consequent upon a change of time at which official statistics are made available by Ottawa. For comparative purposes, therefore, it is necessary to consider all previous computations as dated the first of the month following.

According to the McConnell & Ferguson Monthly Index, conditions as at March 1 registered 21.9 per cent below normal, a slight gain over the previous month, which was 22.8 per cent below normal. At March 1, 1931, conditions were 15.7 per cent below normal.

Three of the four factors gained. Bank debits were up 2 per cent, construction contracts 1.1 per cent, and freight loadings 0.8 per cent. Electric power production dropped 1 per cent.

In the following table the combined weighted index and the four component factors are shown after the usual adjustments.

	Mar 1, 1932	Feb 1, 1932	Mar. 1, 1931
Carloadings of revenue freight	73.0	72.2	80.3
Construction contract awards	81.2	80.1	98.5
Bank debits	85.2	84.2	84.0
Electric power production	81.6	82.6	77.0
Combined weighted index	78.1	77.2	84.3

Stocks Continue to Slip Gently Lower At Eastern Markets

MONTREAL, April 11.—Strength which was in evidence Saturday was completely lacking today on the Montreal Stock Exchange, where an ebbing in values produced thirteen new low levels for the year or longer. In all, seventeen stocks registered declines, while two advanced.

The leading issues confined their declines to fractions, but in some of the more inactive stocks the breaks were quite wide. Dominion Glass dropped sharply to a new low at 50, off 7 points, Simon preferred was 11 points lower at 80; Dominion Textile went to 45, new low, off 2 1-4; Eastern Dairies slumped 1 1-2 to 11, new low, and Canadian Celenese was off 1 5-8 at 3 7-8, new low.

Among the leaders, International Nickel ploughed into minimum territory, touching 6 but closing 3-8 higher than that figure. Its net loss was 1-8, registered on a turnover of 2,257 shares. Brazilian, with sales of 2,395, held unchanged at 10 after moving within a very narrow range. Canadian Pacific eased 1-2 to 13 1-2 on sales of 944 shares.

Pushed up by a favorable preliminary earnings statement Mc-Coll-Frontenac braved the tide, climbing to 8 and closing at 7 1-2, up 1-2. The other issue to gain was St. Lawrence Corporation, 10c higher at 60c on a small sale.

Smelters was a point lower at 40. Bell Telephone off 1 at 93 1-2.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, April 11 (CP).—Prices resumed their decline today as trading began on the Toronto Stock Exchange, but the market rallied after plumbing new lows and closed with losses considerably reduced. Strength in New York, which developed before the close, was felt here in lessened measure.

Of seventy-one issues traded, twelve closed higher, thirty-five lower and fourteen unchanged. Selling was moderate, with turnover of 12,101 shares.

Bell closed at 93, off 1 3-4; Brazilian, at 10, was up 1-4; Canadian General Electric closed at a new low of 179, off 21, on a fifteen-share turnover, and International Utilities "B" was off 1-2 to a new low of 1 1-4.

Canadian Car & Foundry was off 1-2 to a new low of 4 3-8, the preferred also losing 1 1-8 to close at a new low of 11 3-4. Page-Hersey broke sharply to close at 42 1-2, off 3 1-2, after touching a new low of 41 3-4. Turnover totaled 265 shares.

In the metals list Smelters broke 3 1-2 to a new low of 38, and Nickel, with sales of 1,379 shares, was off 1-2 to 6 1-8. Oils also were soft, with British American off 1-4 to 9, Imperial off 1-4 to 8 1-8 and Pete down 1-2 to 9 1-2.

With old Walker common no longer traded, the new common closed at 2 7-8, with a net loss of 1-8, the preferred being unchanged. Distillers-Seagrams was up 1-8.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

TORONTO, April 11 (CP).—The Standard Stock and Mining Exchange opened the week with stocks again moving rapidly downward. The market was weak throughout, although trading was less active. Price issues showed twenty-eight losses against nine gains and seventeen issues unchanged. Sales totaled 158,000 shares.

Reactionary prices dominated the gold section despite recent favorable company reports. Lakeshore fell 30c to $27.70, McIntyre declined 25c to $16.25, Dome dropped 20c to $9.80, and Hollinger, down 2 points, closed at a new low of $4.80 with 1,025 shares out.

Base metal and oil groups continued to move downward. Noranda fell 10c to $16.10, with 2,013 shares out. International Nickel made a new low at $6.15 but closed at $6.25, off 25c. In the oil list British American closed off 20c to $9; Imperial at $8.15, and International Petroleum at $9.85, each lost 10c, while Ajax broke 5 points to a new low of 80c.

All three were extended for three months.

CRESTFALLEN

"It was very unpleasant to see him so crestfallen," meaning dejected, dispirited. Literally, of course, the reference is to hanging one's head.

The allusion is to the cock and his crest, the excrescence growing on his head which is sometimes called the cock's comb. And it was from the once-popular sport of cock fighting that the term came into popular speech; for a cock in defeat or low spirits is literally "crestfallen," like a dog with his tail to the ground.

An actor entertaining a party of friends to lunch was annoyed by the slowness of the service. The waiter seemed casual in the extreme and refused to hurry.

When the bill was presented the actor doled out the exact sum, adding one solitary halfpenny.

The waiter coughed.

"Made a little mistake, haven't you, sir? This here is a ha'penny."

"No mistake, no mistake," said the actor, with a bitter smile. "I never give less."

WILL EXPLAIN LOAN BY-LAW

Two Meetings Called by City Council — Voting Takes Place Thursday

Every opportunity will be afforded property holders to hear an explanation of the city's $500,000 loan by-law and the financial position that has created the necessity for such a loan, it was announced yesterday by Mayor David Leeming.

Tonight representatives of the various service clubs will meet in the council chamber to have the issue explained and an outline of the problems facing the council will be given.

On Wednesday night, at 8 o'clock, a public meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, when the Mayor and members of the council will address the gathering on various phases of the city's problems and the loan by-law itself.

Alderman P. R. Brown, chairman of the finance committee, and Alderman Alex. Peden already have given speeches over the radio, and other addresses are planned.

Voting will take place at the Public Market on Thursday, between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

SORE THROATS AND RHEUMATISM

Physicians are now of the opinion that just as shortness of breath may be a symptom of a defective heart, so also is rheumatism just a symptom, not a disease in itself. Dr. J. D. Hindley-Smith, London, England, during the past three years has carefully analyzed 500 cases in which cronic rheumatism was a prominent symptom. He found that in about seventy-five per cent of the cases the rheumatism was due to organisms affecting the throat. The evidence indicates that most of these throat cases begin in childhood between the ages of three and six. The affection appears to begin first in the throat, with sore throats, infected tonsils, and so on. A secondary stage with general disturbances throughout the body, affecting the blood, heart, and nervous system, occurs at the age of nine to fourteen. Later in life a third stage occurs which causes chronic rheumatism, and deposits about, or enlargements of, the joints.

There is no clear interval between these stages as in some other ailments, but, each stage can always be recognized in the history of each case, and in each successive stage the throat symptoms while not so noticeable to the patient and doctor, have just as severe effect as ever.

The thought then is that if so very many cases with rheumatic symptoms are definitely due to sore throat, as every attack of rheumatism actually follows these throat conditions, that the prevention of rheumatic attacks and the heart ailments that follow them, should be our first thought.

This means that sore throats should be treated early, by first clearing the intestine and then using antiseptic throat solutions twice a day. The use of antiseptics on healthy throats is not advisable, although the use of a mild antiseptic once a day where the individual may be exposed to cases of colds or sore throats, is good sense.

Where the tonsils are inflamed in youngsters it is not advisable to have them removed at the time, nor should they be removed after one attack of tonsillitis if they again become healthy in appearance.

Tonsils should not be retained where there are repeated attacks of tonsillitis because tonsillitis causes rheumatism, and rheumatism causes heart disease.

"A man should always learn his station in life," said the pompous gentleman in the carriage.

"So he should!" agreed his fellow passenger. "There's nothing so annoying as being carried on to the next one and having to take the train back!"

Big Game Hunter—Oh, I've been nearly eaten by lions many times, but life without a little risk would be very tame.

Mr. Stubbubs—I agree. Many times when the weather has seemed doubtful I have deliberately gone out without my umbrella.

"DEAD" GERMAN REGAINS MEDAL

Victorian Tells of Strange Post-War Reconciliation—Once Foes Now Friends

An exchange of shots over shell-torn Passchendale has been transferred to an exchange of correspondence between a German veteran and a Canadian ex-service man now resident in Victoria.

J. Moulson, 527 Head Street, yesterday told of how he had picked up an Iron Cross and field book lying near a German whom he stumbled over during a charge around a "pill box."

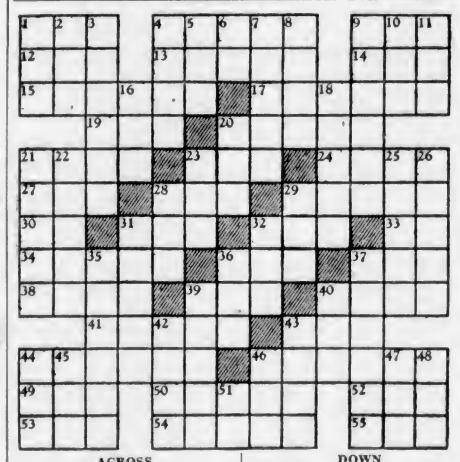

Mr. Moulson thought the German soldier was dead and picked up the field book and Iron Cross. Years after when Dr. H. Seelheim, German consul, passed through this city, Mr. Moulson handed over the Iron Cross and field book with the request that they be given to the man's relatives.

He was quite surprised recently to receive a letter from the presumably dead soldier thanking him for returning his medal and field book. The unexpected reconciliation was given considerable prominence in the German newspapers and Mr. Moulson is now corresponding on a friendly basis with his former foe.
